

Coleman Too Ignorant Of Peninsula's Riches, Rep. Bennett Declares

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Bennett (R-Mich.) said today John S. Coleman should resign from the Michigan Economic Development Commission for displaying "an alarming ignorance of the economic and industrial development of upper Michigan."

Bennett criticized Coleman, president of the Burroughs Adding Machine Co., Detroit, for testimony he gave here Oct. 29 before President Eisenhower's commission on foreign economic policy headed by steel executive Clarence Randall.

Supported By Detroit
Testifying as chairman of the committee for a national trade policy, a free trade group, Coleman said: "We support all of the counties of northern Michigan out of Detroit and many of us suspect it ought to be turned back into a game preserve and we should regrow timber up there."

Bennett, a resident of Ontonagon in northern Michigan, labeled this "untrue," declaring in a statement that no other area of the state "has a greater industrial potential" than the Upper Peninsula and "none is so rich in natural resources." He added:

"Mr. Coleman's colossal lack of knowledge of northern Michigan and his callous attitude concerning its future has destroyed what ever usefulness he may have had as a member of the Michigan Commission for Economic Development."

Foreign Wages Low

Coleman made the remark in an exchange with Sen. Milliken (R-Colo.), a Randall commission member, who had objected to Coleman's view that Colorado and Michigan metals mines should shut down if they cannot compete with foreign imports. Coleman added the government "should subsidize" communities that cannot attract other industries.

Bennett said: "It is all right with him (Coleman) for our working people, who are paid good wages, to compete with slave wage rates that are paid workers in foreign countries. Their employers can either meet cheap foreign competition or go out of business so far as he was concerned."

"Significantly, Mr. Coleman's adding machine firm has little or no foreign competition. Neither do some of the automobile companies for whom he apparently speaks."

Big Air Defense Fund To Be Goal For Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. John W. McCormack (D-Mass.) said today Democrats will fight in the next session of Congress for a two-billion-dollar increase in air defense funds to provide "adequate protection for American cities and American people."

McCormack, assistant Democratic leader in the House, said such a program could provide radar, interceptor planes and other devices to knock out all but 10 per cent of enemy bombers in any sudden attack.

Currently, he added, "it is a disgraceful situation—in case of a sneak attack—our defenses are such that 70 per cent of the attacking planes can get through."

Rep. Winstead (D-Miss.), a member of the House Armed Forces Committee who returned last week from an eight-week inspection tour of American military bases abroad said in a separate interview he is convinced "we certainly must strengthen our air defenses at home as rapidly as possible."

He added that two billion dollars to finance such a program "could be saved easily" from foreign aid. "We have been spending money recklessly in some countries which are contributing little to the free world defense," he said. "We must concentrate our aid in countries which are cooperating."

The Eisenhower administration has indicated it favors boosting air defense funds, but by a much smaller amount. Secretary of Defense Wilson has suggested half a billion dollars.

Neutrals Biggest Peace Talk Issue

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Communists said today they want neutral nations seated at the Korean peace conference only as observers. U.S. envoy Arthur Dean said the proposal "could offer a very fruitful basis for further negotiations."

There were growing indications that a compromise may be reached on the thorny issue of inviting neutrals to the peace conference—biggest issue to be settled at the preliminary peace talks here.

Dean is spokesman for 16 United Nations and South Korea, all of which have voiced opposition to neutral participation in the peace conference.

Meanwhile, explanations to Korean and Chinese war prisoners who have refused to go home remained at a standstill.

The Communists have refused to go along with new rules to speed up the program. There have been no interviews since Monday.

Pretty Bather Sues For $10,000 As Suit Becomes Transparent

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Everybody looked when pretty Mrs. Patricia C. Muncy of Redondo Beach stepped out of a Santa Monica pool. They looked again. Then Mrs. Muncy looked too.

What she saw, she said in a suit Wednesday asking $10,000 damages, was that her bathing suit "became transparent and puerile to light" after contact with water.

She has sued the garment manufacturer, claiming she was exposed to public gaze and ridicule, and suffered extreme embarrassment and shock.

Jury Recommends Death For Greenlease Kidnapers

SYMBOL OF HOPE—Ambrose Salmini, of Yonkers, N. Y., demonstrates the winning symbol of the $1800 contest he started among West Germans for a symbol that will mean "hope" to people enslaved by the Communists. About 20 per cent of the entries came from the Soviet zone, with entrants using West German return addresses. The winning symbol, selected from 2500 entries, is a simple drawing that transforms the Soviet emblem into the Christian cross in two sketches. The first shows the sickle flattening itself out in a straight line and the hammer becoming the crossbar. The second drawing shows the completed cross.

Returned POW Tells How Reds Held Him Under Death Threat

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, held in a Communist compound until after the Korean POW exchange, said Wednesday night for the first time the Reds "forced" him to remain behind under threats of death.

The stocky, 23-year-old mountain boy from Big Stone Gap, Va., grinned broadly and told newsmen he felt "safer now that I'm home" as he stepped from the four-engine evacuation plane which brought him from Honolulu.

No Longer Afraid

He said he did not tell reporters in Tokyo the truth after his release Oct. 20 when he said he stayed behind with the 22 other American soldiers because "I wanted to get the dope on the Communists."

Emphatically, he declared: "I was afraid of the Communists—but I'm not any more. There are Communists in the United States and I'd like to tell the FBI to protect my father and my mother. I'm afraid of what the Communist might do."

He said he believed "seven or eight of the remaining 22 Americans still in Indian custody do not believe in communism and would like to return home."

Then his control broke. Near tears, he added:

"I want no part of communism. I am loyal to the U. S. There is no better life than in America. I wanted to be back with my own people. I wanted to die on my own soil."

Taken To Lectures

He said that was the reason he slipped away from his quarters in the neutral zone and rushed to an Indian guard, asking for repatriation—"I didn't care if they killed me."

He said if the other Allied POWS knew he desired repatriation, "they would have gotten me—not necessarily the Americans but the South Korean prisoners. They were violently Communist."

He told how the Communists originally prevented him from returning:

"I was forced to go to Communist lectures soon after my capture on Nov. 5, 1950. I tried to escape and they forced me to do hard labor and beat me."

"Then they made me attend more lectures and write statements that I would inform on the 'reactionaries' (POWs who refused to follow the Communist line)."

"What I had to do turned a lot of men against me, but it wasn't true. I didn't inform."

Mossadegh May Starve Himself

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Mohammed Mossadegh today threatened a hunger strike to the death as chief prosecutor Brig. Hossein Azemodch asked a court-martial to send the former Premier to the gallows.

It was the 73-year-old ex-dictator's second suicide threat since the army court on Nov. 8 began trying him on charges he tried to overthrow Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, defied the royal decrees and dissolved the lower house of Parliament illegally.

He voiced his threat today after Azemodch said he would be put in solitary confinement if he continues to complain about his food, living conditions, and alleged attempts on his life.

Mossadegh shouted to the court that his life was in danger in prison, that he had been threatened "for the last two nights," and that the "army will kill me in the prison itself."

"It will be no use your acting after I'm dead," he said.

"The army will protect you," Gen. Nasrollah Moghbeli, the chairman of the five-man tribunal, replied.

Berle Weds Again
NEW YORK (AP)—Television comedian Milton Berle and Ruth Cosgrove will be married here sometime next month.

Berle, 46, has been married twice, both times to blonde Joyce Matthews. Miss Cosgrove, about 30, also has been married twice. She has done public relations work here and in Hollywood.

Union Condemns Taft Labor Law
CLEVELAND (AP)—The CIO Convention paid little heed today to Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell's advice to quit talking about scuttling the Taft-Hartley Act.

Instead, it pushed ahead with a resolution calling for outright repeal of what it called an "unfair and unjust" law.

CIO President Walter P. Reuther said the resolution, prepared well in advance of the new labor secretary's convention speech Wednesday, would not be altered. There was no doubt that it would pass.

Mitchell told the 700 delegates that an approach to labor legislation starting "from the point of realism" would "preclude further talk of repeal of the act."

The Taft-Hartley resolution pledged the CIO to "devote all of its energies and resources" to seek the law's repeal. It accused the Eisenhower administration of not keeping its "solemn pledge to the American people to amend Taft-Hartley so as to make it a just, fair and decent law."

Killers Of Boy Face Execution In Gas Chamber

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The kidnap killers of little Bobby Greenlease were sentenced today to die Dec. 18 for their crime.

U. S. Dist. Judge Albert L. Reeves passed the death sentence on Carl Austin Hall, 34, and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, 41, within 15 minutes after a jury of 12 men recommended that they pay the supreme penalty for their confessed crime.

Nothing To Say

Mrs. Heady, the pudgy faced alcoholic, stood at the right of Hall, wistful playboy, when the judge pronounced the sentence.

Judge Reeves asked if they had anything to say.

Hall said clearly: "No, sir."

Mrs. Heady shook her head in the negative.

Then Judge Reeves said solemnly:

"I accept the recommendations of the jury. It is my duty to accept and adopt the recommendations of the jury."

Since neither had anything to say, Judge Reeves said it would be the judgment and sentence of the court that they be executed in the gas chamber at Jefferson City on Dec. 18—just one week before Christmas.

Father Watches

He read the sentence twice—once for Hall, then in the same words for Mrs. Heady.

The kidnapers' faces did not change expression. Both apparently were resigned to their fate.

Robert C. Greenlease, multi-millionaire father of little Bobby who paid the kidnapers $600,000 ransom days after his child had been slain, watched the climax of the trial with set jaw.

He said he did not know whether he would witness the execution of the killers.

Roy K. Dietrich, Hall's court-appointed attorney, sought to delay the sentencing so he could study the record of the trial, but withdrew his objection after Judge Reeves assured him he would be given a chance to file any motions necessary to protect Hall's constitutional rights.

Jury Acts Quickly

Dist. Atty. Edward L. Scheuffer asked the judge for an immediate sentence, and Reeves complied.

Judge Reeves then adjourned court and the room in which the dramatic proceedings had been conducted was cleared within minutes.

As he left the courtroom, Greenlease commented of the sentence: "It's too good for them but it's the best the law provides."

It took the jury of 12 men one hour and seven minutes to give U. S. Dist. Judge Albert L. Reeves authority to send the pair to the gas chamber. Judge Reeves had told the jury the two were cold blooded murders and there were no mitigating circumstances for their crime.

Issue Simple

Judge Reeves, a veteran of 30 years on the federal bench, spoke extemporaneously as he told the all male jury of western Missouri farmers and businessmen that the issue before them was simple:

Should Carl Austin Hall, 34—(Please Turn To Page 6, Col. 7)

Disarming Of Japan In 1946 Was Mistake, Vice President Says

TOKYO (AP)—U.S. Vice President Richard Nixon, in a bold bid for a rearmament Japan, said today "the United States made a mistake in 1946" when it ordered destruction of the remnants of Japanese military might.

Nixon's dramatic review of American policy first started, then obviously pleased some 700 top Japanese leaders. There was quick praise from Japanese who long have insisted demilitarization was a costly mistake.

New Persuasion Line

"We misjudged the intentions of Soviet leaders" at the end of World War II, Nixon told the influential Japan-America Society.

Since then, he said, "the threat from the Communist nations—with the threat centered in Moscow" has prevented the free world from living in peace.

"It is because we want peace and believe in peace," Nixon added, "that we (the United States) have rearmend since 1946 and we believe that Japan and other nations should share the same responsibility.

"We felt disarmament was proper in 1946. Since that time, the Communist threat has gained in power—wars have begun."

"If we want peace, we must be militarily stronger than the Communist nations."

Informed quarters said Nixon's speech apparently inaugurated a new soft line of persuasion in dealing with Japan.

Link In Defense

The Japanese strongly resented statements by Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.), U. S. Senate majority leader, and U. S. Secretary of State Dulles which they interpreted to mean Japan must rearm to obtain future aid.

Nixon stressed:

"Japan is a key bastion for the defense of Asia."

"If Japan falls, all of Asia falls."

"Likewise, if Asia falls, Japan falls too."

The vice president and his party leave Friday for a two-hour glimpse of the multi-billion dollar American defense establishment on Okinawa on the way to Manila.

Civil Service Jobs Coming Too Slowly, Republicans Think

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.) said today the Senate Civil Service Committee he heads has been urged to look into complaints the Civil Service Commission is failing to open up policymaking jobs to Republicans.

But he declined to say whether the committee would undertake such an investigation.

"There is a feeling," he said in an interview, "that the commission has not permitted the new administration to put its own people into policymaking positions."

"Those who have asked us to make an investigation say that the result has been that government policy has not always been in the direction intended by the President."

Last week Rep. A. L. Miller (R-Neb.) called upon Philip Young to resign as chairman of the Civil Service Commission, citing the same reason.

Young said, "I feel perfectly satisfied that the Civil Service Commission has followed a middle-of-the-road policy in respect to placing key jobs under the administration's control."

The Civil Service Commission has turned down about 850 requests of Republican department heads that jobs be transferred to schedule "C" while granting about 770. The schedule "C" jobs are those held to be policy-making or confidential. They can be filled politically.

Young reportedly has voted with Frederick J. Lawton, Democratic member of the commission, in a number of cases in which schedule "C" applications were rejected.

Young is a Republican. This has left George M. Moore, the second GOP member, in the minority in these cases.

Ohioan Gets Bear After 5 Years But His Car Is Ruined
HOUGHTON LAKE, Mich. (AP)—For five years R. C. Mulholland of Dayton, Ohio, has gone to the Michigan woods hoping to shoot a bear. Each year he returned empty-handed.

Wednesday, driving along Route 27, he hit something that spun his car around. There, on the road, was a wounded bear. Grabbing his rifle, Mulholland killed it with one shot.

He has his bear, but it will cost him $600 for repairs to the car.

Firecrackers Start Georgia Woods Fires
ROME, Ga. (AP)—Five persons have been arrested on charges of starting some of the forest fires raging in northwest Georgia.

E. H. Terry, chief fire investigator for the Georgia Forestry commission, said two teen-agers arrested here Wednesday told him they set three fires "just to see them burn."

Three men arrested in a lonely shack near the Georgia-Alabama line admitted they started fires by throwing firecrackers into dry grass and underbrush, Terry reported.

Senate Security Inquiry Has Only Temporary Lull

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators investigating the Harry Dexter White case called a temporary lull today but gave no sign of abandoning their efforts because of President Eisenhower's suggestion that the need for such inquiries may soon be ended.

Chairman Jenner (R-Ind.) said the internal security subcommittee's next session was set for Monday afternoon.

Reports Reach Top

Jenner told newsmen that "for the first time we have been able to show" that FBI reports on suspected individuals "reached the hands of top officials," and he added it was impossible to say now what developments might follow.

Eisenhower expressed hope at his news conference Wednesday that security firings may so completely solve the problem of alleged Red infiltration of government that the issue will be forgotten by next year's congressional campaign.

Eisenhower said he was not suggesting current congressional probes be called off.

Keep Ball Rolling

The President declined to comment directly on the case of White, who Atty. Gen. Brownell says was promoted in 1946 by former President Truman in the face of FBI reports which, Brownell asserted, tagged White as a Soviet spy.

But it was plainly evident that Republicans in Congress and elsewhere intended to keep the ball rolling up to election time next November.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) prepared a radio-television reply Monday night to Truman's indictment of "McCarthyism."

Jenner promised the internal security subcommittee will have new disclosures on the operations of alleged spies in the Treasury after White was promoted from assistant secretary there to the International Monetary Fund.

Professor Suspended

Jenner challenged a telegraphic statement from John W. Snyder, who served as secretary of the Treasury under Truman, that any subversives in that department were weeded out during his tenure.

"We happen to know better than that," Jenner said.

Among those named as suspected of subversive activities in an FBI report to the White House late in 1945 were Maurice Halperin and Victor Perlo.

Halperin, 47, was suspended Wednesday from a Boston University professorship.

Perlo, now a private economic consultant in New York, said Wednesday night the Republicans are trying to make people forget years of war and depression by "picturing the New Deal as a foreign plot."

Perlo, who has sworn he was not a spy ring member, said in a statement, "The dragging of my name through the mud... is part of a big Roman carnival which McCarthy, Jenner, Brownell, etc., are staging for political adventure, and to divert the people from real problems..."

Flying Boat Crewmen Picked Up In Pacific
PEARL HARBOR (AP)—Seven crewmen from a Navy Catalina flying boat which ditched in the Pacific Wednesday have been picked up from a life raft by the transport Daniel I. Sultan, the Navy announced.

Navy officers said three of the men were injured, but none is in serious condition.

The Sultan is heading for Midway Island, about 240 miles south of the point where the airmen were rescued, the Navy said.

The flying boat ran out of fuel and crash-landed on a flight from Alaska to Midway.

Dentists Urge Fluoridation Of City Water

Dr. Roy Johnson, president of the Cloverland District Dental Society, has spoken out against a recent Congressional committee report urging communities to go slow in adopting fluoridation of their water supply.

Dr. Johnson declared that the American Dental Association, the American Medical Association, the University of Michigan, and the United States Public Health Service all back fluoridation to prevent tooth decay. So do the Cloverland District Dental Society and the Delta County Dental Society.

Dr. Johnson

Boilers, But Not Children
The Cloverland District president spoke unreservedly in favor of fluoridation of the Escanaba water supply. He said he had had a three-year-old girl in his office that very day, and had to pull two of her teeth. She also had five decays.

With fluoridation, she probably would have escaped that, he said. In Detroit, Dr. Johnson declared, the city had a situation where some persons protested that water was corroding their boilers, and wanted something put in the water supply to stop it. It was put in without argument, said Dr. Johnson. But, he said, try to put fluorine in the water to help children, and protests come from everywhere.

Decay Rates Go Down
Dr. Johnson cited Aurora, Ill., a city whose drinking water contains 1.2 parts per million of natural fluoride — that is, the city didn't add the fluoride, it was in the water in the first place.

The Cloverland District president showed a pamphlet comparing Aurora to Grand Rapids, which was without any fluoride in its water, in 1945. The average 16-year-old in Grand Rapids had 16 teeth containing decay; the average 16-year-old in Aurora had five teeth containing decay.

In 1945 Grand Rapids began to add fluorine to its water. Decay rates began descending toward the Aurora level. Six years after fluorine was added, decay rates in Grand Rapids for the age groups from seven through 11 were already more than halfway down to the Aurora level.

Refuting Rep. Miller
More than that, Dr. Johnson said. Fluoridation has its best effect when teeth are forming; but the Grand Rapids experience showed that fluoridation even helped older children.

Dr. Johnson produced analyses of statements in the Congress of the United States of Rep. A. L. Miller, a former state health director of Nebraska.

Rep. Miller, using Grand Rapids as an example of the possible bad results of fluorine, claimed that city's number of deaths from heart disease rose from 585 in 1944, before fluorine, to 1,059 in 1948, after fluorine.

Rep. Miller later corrected his statement. Dr. Johnson noted that for 1944, the Nebraskan was using figures for Grand Rapids only. For 1948, he was using figures for the whole of Kent County.

Escanaba Well Water Okay
In printed material which Dr. Johnson made available, it was further noted that Grand Rapids deaths from heart disease in 1949 totaled 733, an increase of 25 per cent over 1944. However, the State Health Department estimates the population of Grand Rapids rose 28.1 per cent from 1944 to 1949, which would account for the rise.

Dr. Johnson said when Escanaba got its drinking water from wells, the U. S. Health Department, the Michigan Health Department, and the University of Michigan used to test the water, which contained 5/10 part per million of fluorine. It was not discovered the water had any ill effects, he said.

Ill effects can only come when too much fluorine is added to water, Dr. Johnson said. The recommended amount to be added is one part per million.

Fluorine will not mottle the tooth enamel unless it is added at a rate of more than 1.5 parts per million, Dr. Johnson said. The dentist noted that fluorine doesn't change the taste of anything. Pop, drinking water, beer, all taste the same after fluorine as before fluorine.

Iron Mountain Child Dies After Clothing Burns

IRON MOUNTAIN — Kathryn Ann Cuggino, five-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Cuggino, 402 West Ludington, and who was severely burned late Sunday morning in an accident near her home, died at 4 yesterday afternoon in Memorial hospital.

It was the second death in the family in the past week. A son, David, three-months-old, died exactly one week ago yesterday, following a three-day illness.

Kathryn received first, second and third degree burns last Sunday morning when her dress became ignited by burning matches. She had since been at the hospital.

Funeral services will be held in Iron Mountain Friday morning. Burial will be in the Quinnesec cemetery.

Bids To Be Opened On Chippewa, Luce Highway Project

The Michigan State Highway Department office in Escanaba announced today that it will open sealed bids at 11 a. m. Monday, Nov. 23, on a road project in Chippewa and Luce Counties.

Bids will be forwarded to State Highway Department headquarters in Lansing, where, if the usual procedure is followed, a contract will be awarded from 10 days to two weeks later.

The Escanaba office described the project as follows:

In Chippewa and Luce Counties: A base repair and aggregate surface on M-28, 1,840 miles intermittently from Sage River 1/2 mile east of Luce County line to 1.5 miles east of intersection M-28 and M-123 in Chippewa County.

Also, on M-28 from 3/4 mile to 0.28 mile east of junction M-28 and M-28-A. Also, from 8.1 miles east of junction M-28 and M-28-A easterly 0.58 mile in Luce County.

Briefly Told

No Clinic Friday —The immunization clinic at the Webster Annex will not be held Friday, Nov. 20.

Delta Lodge Meets —A regular monthly meeting of Delta Lodge 195, F. & A. M., will be held this evening at 7:30 at the Masonic Temple. A cordial invitation is extended to visiting Masons.

Youth Is Sought —Raymond Starnes, 17, of 902 1/2 Ludington, is being sought by Escanaba police following his return to Escanaba after escaping from Boys Vocational School, Lansing, to which he had been committed by juvenile court.

Motorists Ticketed —Escanaba police have issued traffic violation tickets to the following motorists: Harry Larange, Escanaba Rte. 1, speeding and improper passing; John R. Krulatz, 2240 Lake Shore Drive, speeding; Carolyn R. Kroll, 1527 Stephenson Ave., speeding and expired operator's license.

LIFE EXPECTATIONS

The average life expectation for the population of the United States is 55.35 years for males and 58.61 for females; India's males have a life expectancy of only 22.59 years and females 23.31.

er the water had any ill effects, he said.

Ill effects can only come when too much fluorine is added to water, Dr. Johnson said. The recommended amount to be added is one part per million.

Teen-Age Highway Safety Conference Here Friday

Twenty four high schools from Delta, Dickinson, Iron, Menominee and Schoolcraft Counties will participate tomorrow, Nov. 20, in their first Teen-age Highway Safety Conference. Escanaba High School will be host to the session, which will be attended by four delegates from each school.

Tom LaLonde of Gladstone will act as conference chairman during the sessions. Vice-chairman will be Jim Moore of Crystal Falls, and Mary Manning of St. Joseph (Escanaba) will preside as secretary.

Five topics concerning teen-age driving and safety will be discussed during the conference under the chairmanship of a high school student. "Developing Responsibilities and Attitudes for Teen-age Drivers" will be under the chairmanship of Phyllis Theviaga, Gladstone. Consultants for this topic will be Dr. Wilbur D. West, Northern Michigan College of Education, and Wiljo Sarkela, social worker in Upper Peninsula.

Re-Educate Offenders
Jim Ferguson of Escanaba High School will be discussion chairman for the topic, "Promotion of Driving Information, Insurance, etc., through Organizations like Safety Clubs", with Glenn Leonard, Escanaba safety director, as consultant.

"How Best Learn to Drive and Also Re-educate Offenders" will have Keith Molen, Escanaba, as chairman of the group. John Gucky, safety supervisor and driver trainer of Marquette public schools, will act as consultant.

Lt. Lawrence Barril, Michigan State Police, and Sgt. Finman, police department of Escanaba, will be acting consultants for the topic, "Law Enforcement and Licensing," under the chairmanship of Gordon Loberger of Stephenson.

Norman Archey, Manistique, Dies

MANISTIQUE—Norman Archey of River Road, a Manistique resident most of his life, died Wednesday at 6:15 p. m. in Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital, where he had been a patient one day. He was 44.

Mr. Archey was born Aug. 25, 1909, in Germfask, and was educated in Manistique schools. He married Ann Szemansky in Escanaba Sept 7, 1937.

A member of St. Francis Sales Church, Manistique, Mr. Archey was also a trustee of Manistique Township. For three years he worked for Inland Lime and Stone Company. He belonged to United Steel Workers, CIO.

He leaves his wife, and a son, Loyal, of Manistique. Three brothers, Roy, Henry, and Charles, all of Manistique, survive, as do five sisters: Mrs. John Trekas, Mrs. Clarence Wood, Mrs. Elmer Boal, Mrs. Chester Woodruff, and Mrs. Orville Paradise, all of Manistique.

The body has been taken to Messier-Broulliere funeral home in Manistique. Arrangements are not yet complete.

M & M Plans TV Station Serving Wide U. P. Area

Early additional television service for the Upper Peninsula of Michigan was assured today when the Federal Communications Commission granted the M & M Broadcasting Company a construction permit to build a VHF television station to broadcast on Channel 11.

Today's grant was made possible by the withdrawal of the application of the Green Bay Broadcasting Company for the same facility. The M & M Broadcasting Company owns radio stations WMAM, Marinette and WESK, Escanaba, while the Green Bay Broadcasting Company owns radio stations WDUZ, Green Bay and WMAW, Menominee.

Joseph D. Mackin, secretary-treasurer of the M & M Broadcasting Company, explained that while no formal contract has been signed, an option will be granted the Green Bay Broadcasting Company to purchase a minority stock interest in the M & M Broadcasting Company, which will continue to operate station WMAM, and will construct Marinette's new television station as soon as delivery can be obtained on needed equipment.

Applied In June 1952
Officers of the M & M Broadcasting Company are: W. E. Walker, president; Frank J. Lauerma, Jr., vice president; and Joseph D. Mackin, secretary-treasurer.

The original application for a Marinette television station was filed in June, 1952, with the lifting of the freeze on the granting of television station licenses. The competing application was filed shortly thereafter. Because the two applications for the same facility were mutually exclusive, the FCC scheduled them for a hearing which probably would not have been held for two years because of the backlog of applications on file from larger communities.

The agreement between the two Wisconsin broadcasting corporations and the granting of the construction permit today, assures this area of receiving television service at least two years sooner than would otherwise have been the case.

"Our big objective," said Walker, "has been to bring television service to the Twin City area just as soon as possible. That's why our application was filed, and that's why we have entered into an agreement with the Green Bay interests for the withdrawal of their television application."

No Starting Date
WMAM, an NBC affiliate, expects that the new Marinette television station will be affiliated with the National Broadcasting Company, and negotiations are already in progress on this matter, Mackin said. WMAM will invest almost a half million dollars in the new station, he added. Because of the extensive construction planned, including a new 750 foot television tower.

Mackin said it would be very difficult now to estimate when the new station will be on the air. He said, however, that construction would be speeded, and while the station plans to broadcast with power of 250,000 watts, it may be necessary to go on with less power at the outset because of the demand for television equipment.

Ben Laird, WDUZ and WMAM president, said that he and his associates are pleased with the arrangement made. "For many years," he said, "we have known Mr. Walker and Mr. Mackin, and have admired their Marinette radio operation. We welcome the opportunity to be associated with them and feel confident that we will be able to bring the very best in television to the Marinette-Menominee area."

Harold Murphy, Shorewood, part owner of WDUZ, emphasized the fact that the Twin City television station will be the only station between Milwaukee and Canada to be associated with NBC. It is expected that the station will render Class A service

City Prospered During October

Escanaba's volume of trade in October 1953 was 117 percent higher than the community's volume of trade in the same month in 1952, according to bank debit figures just released by the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis.

Only five of 18 Upper Peninsula communities did better, but two of these had staggering trade volumes this October compared to the previous October. In Calumet, trade volume this October was 196 percent of October 1952. Lake Linden's was 155 percent.

Manistique was the third most prosperous of the 18 communities, again comparing this October to last. Trade volume for October 1953 was 135 percent of that for the same month in 1952.

Three of the 18 communities did not share in the general hold-your-own-or-better picture this October. Ishpeming's trade volume this October was 86 percent of last October's; Negaunee's, 96 percent; and Marquette's, 97 percent.

For the ten-month period from January 1953 through October 1953, Escanaba's volume of trade was 107 percent of the same period in 1952. This placed the community 12th among the 18 communities.

Highest rate of gain for the 10-month period was again registered by Calumet, with 122 percent. Ishpeming and L'Anse did worst over the 10-month period, the trade of both in 1953 being 97 percent of the same period in 1952. Marquette's was just under 100 percent. These three were the only communities to show a falling-off.

Bank debits for the most part are checks against depositors' accounts and thus represent payments for goods, services, debts, etc., the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis noted. They also include some transfer of funds which of themselves have no business significance.

Public Schools Get $9,599,054

LANSING (AP)—The state today released $9,599,054 to the public schools in the November payment of primary school fund money.

The payment is on the basis of $6.04 per census child, bringing to $24.55 the amount received by the schools this year.

The payments by counties included: Alger, $16,217; Baraga, $14,278; Chippewa, $51,182; Delta, $59,487; Dickinson, $35,503; Gogebic, $49,468; Houghton, $57,150; Iron, $26,841; Keweenaw, $4,366; Luce, $11,544; Mackinac, $16,314; Marquette, $70,855; Menominee, $38,239; Ontonagon, $16,483; Schoolcraft, $15,782; Wayne, $3,269,892.

Stable Price For Herring Is Sought By Area Fishermen

MENOMINEE—Wendell Beaudock, president of the Menominee County Fishermen's Association, has named a dozen "captains of the port" who will be the watch dogs of commercial fishing to see that fishermen hold to a 4-cent-a-pound price for herring.

Commercial fishermen of the Green Bay area decided to fish on the "honor system" this year to hold the price at $80 a ton for herring. Part of the plan was to name captains in each port to keep check on fishermen's herring sales to see that they conform to the agreed 4 cent base.

The captains named were: Richard Barribeau, Fayette; Walter Olson, Escanaba; Norbert Swaer, Pensaaukee; Dennis McDonald, Washington Island; Bodin Fisheries, Ashland; Emery Larsen, Sister Bay; Harvey Olson, Ellison Bay; Stuart Woerfel, Fish Creek; Tom Claffin, Sturgeon Bay; Kermit Kleinke, Marinette; and Beaudock, Menominee bay shore.

Plan Leadership Training Meeting at Rapid River Dec. 2

Representatives of Parent Teacher Association units and others will attend a discussion in leadership training to be held Wednesday, Dec. 2, in Calvary Lutheran Church guild hall under sponsorship of the Delta County Association of School Superintendents, Mental Health Committee, and the University of Michigan extension service.

The conference will start at 10 a. m. and end at 4.30 p. m.

Appearing on the program will be Robert Drew of the Michigan Department of Social Welfare; Miss Phoebe Anderson, R. N., of the Delta-Menominee Health District; and Charles Folio, extension supervisor in the Upper Peninsula for University of Michigan.

Miss Anderson will present materials used in the discussion on health, and Mr. Drew the discussion on mental health.

Each superintendent of schools will send two or three representatives to the conference, which is limited in attendance to a total of 30 persons.

Truck Transportation Week Puts Public Focus On Motor Industry

LINE up the 60,000,000 workers all across America and you'll find that every 10th man or woman draws his or her pay directly from the motor transport industry. Even the railroads, long the symbol of corporate size, employ less than 1,500,000 people.

The almost 6,000,000 directly employed by the nation's trucking industry represent collectively a service business that has grown phenomenally to a point where it now hauls 75% of all our freight tonnage.

What brings this to mind is the fact that Truck Transportation Week, commemorating the industry's 50th Anniversary, is being observed November 16-22. Its aim, the industry's Independent Advisory Committee tells us, is to dramatize the indispensable contribution to the U. S. welfare being made by trucks, to help convey the industry's role in our nation's future well-being.

What strikes us as unusual is that for this anniversary the industry is not simply blowing its own horn, or patting itself on the back, but has taken a specific direct pledge to take certain steps for the national welfare in the field of transportation. The ACT program is based on these points:

1. To achieve a fuller public understanding of the trucking industry's final contribution to America's welfare, and to assume its full share of responsibility, not merely to a great economic enterprise, but to the nation whose very existence—in peace and war—depends on transportation.
2. To seek new opportunities for the trucking industry to serve the American people, and to aid in keeping the industry ever alert to the danger of military attack upon this nation. The committee believes that the construction and maintenance of a nation-wide modern highway system is an absolute necessity in this age of the H-bomb. It also believes it essential that assurance be given that an adequate supply of steel, rubber and other scarce materials be made available to the industry in time of emergency and war.

3. To strive for complete cooperation between the industry and government agencies at all levels, national, state and municipal. The industry, for example, is asking the federal government to eliminate some of its policies and practices against the trucking industry as to operations, regulations, financing and consolidation.
4. To work with all public and private agencies dedicated to the development of a safe and adequate highway system. In this regard, the committee is urging state governments to undertake an up-to-date survey of roads and highways; to classify them according to traffic usage and importance and establish realistic, equitable regulations for all who have to use the highways for business and pleasure.

5. To further motor transport and increase its benefits to the nation by stimulating and promoting research and education as well as new economic opportunity for this key industry.
6. To combat threats to constructive competition in the transportation field. Inasmuch as the trucking industry carries 75% of all freight tonnage in this country, it is to the interest of all that the industry be aided in its development.

THE 'BEST SELLER'

(Pittsburgh Post-Gazette)

The revised Protestant edition of the Bible was the subject of much criticism when it was issued in 1952 after 15 years of study by representatives of 40 denominations.

Some, fundamentalists, assailed the revision as sacrilegious—and burned it publicly. Others based their objections on a preference for the language of the King James version. But now, after a year of publication, the "new" Bible has a total sale of 2½ million copies according to the National Council of Churches—more than that of any other book in a like time.

This phenomenal success clearly indicates a widespread interest in Bible study. When it comes to reading pleasure, there are doubtless many among the purchasers who infinitely prefer the grandeur and the poetic beauty of the King James version to the phrasing of the new work. In their search for religious understanding, however, they have availed themselves of a work in which archaic language has been translated into clearer, modern terms and in which, so it is asserted, many errors of scholarship have been rectified.

But whatever one's beliefs or preferences, the public response to this revision of the Bible should reassure all of the continuing vitality of religion in this country. Perhaps, too, it will serve to abate somewhat the fears of those who are inclined to believe, despite the tremendous sales of religious works, that the American public is interested only in tales of sex, crime, and violence.

DELINQUENTS THE EXCEPTION

(Kansas City Star)

If one takes the time and actually studies the lists of Boy Scout civic projects during a given year, it immediately becomes apparent how one-sided this delinquency picture can become. But the civic contribution of these boys is really just one phase of the situation and if anything the least important.

The real significance from participation in these tasks comes from what the boys themselves get out of it—a sense of belonging and responsibility. No, the teenagers of today are not all delinquents—far from it.

The Doctor Says . . . Some Diabetic Traits Can Be Passed by Inheritance

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

An extremely difficult question comes from Mrs. C. who says, "Will you kindly discuss the risk involved for a diabetic mother to have children, and the risk involved if only the father has diabetes? I have heard conflicting reports in this respect, and wondered if it is advisable for either a diabetic mother or diabetic father to have children."

There have been studies on the inheritance of diabetes. A family history of the disease can be found in at least one-quarter of those patients who have diabetes. This, plus other evidence, strongly suggests that diabetes is inherited according to what is known as the Mendelian law.

According to this, on the average, if one parent had diabetes and the other was entirely free of the diabetic trait, one child in four would inherit the tendency to develop that disease.

If the apparently healthy parent harbored a buried trait for diabetes, a higher proportion of the children, under this law, would be expected to have diabetes.

This, it should be emphasized, is the theoretical expectation and does not always come out this way in practice. It does seem true, however, that a family history of diabetes is important, though it is certainly not the only factor in the development of active signs of the disease.

To answer Mrs. C's question specifically is impossible and parents with diabetes should get the best individual advice they can from their physicians on the chances of their children developing that disease.

OVERWEIGHT IMPORTANT

Perhaps as important, or even more important than family history of diabetes is the question of overweight. An extremely high percentage of those who develop definite signs of the disease are too fat.

In one study of one thousand patients with diabetes, for example, 77 of each only eight of one hundred were below normal. This certainly indicates that overweight is to be avoided, particularly by those with a family history of diabetes.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—That the present Harry White controversy was started to divert the nation from political problems is debatable. Not debatable, however, is the fact that it has distracted the nation from some of the most important developments going on inside Russia since Stalin died.

The State Department and the American embassy in Moscow have been exchanging worried cables about these developments. Churchill has been chiming in. Ambassador Bohlen took a special trip to Paris to report to U. S. diplomats. What worries the diplomats is the sudden, recalcitrant, almost brutal tone of Russian foreign policy, plus reports that Premier Malenkov has allied himself with the most rabid anti-American hotheads in the Russian Army.

Malenkov, who started with a soft tone toward the West, has now turned round and is just the opposite. Anti-Semitism is being encouraged again, possibly as a gesture to the Arabs. Not the slightest intention has been shown of sitting down at a conference table regarding the future of Germany and Austria. And the question of Korean peace is just as elusive as ever.

The situation inside Russia appears so worrisome that Prime Minister Churchill has been sending impatient messages telling Washington that his trip to Moscow is more needed than ever. Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles, however, seem even more determined to head him off. They think a Churchill pilgrimage will only be interpreted as a sign of weakness.

What's going on inside the Kremlin appears to be a continuing and serious inner struggle for power between members of the committee now running Russia. Malenkov is still playing the first violin in this committee, but reports indicate he is by no means the orchestra leader—yet.

On this governing committee with Malenkov are Marshal Bulganin, head of the Red Army; Molotov, vice premier; Nikita Khrushchev, secretary of the Communist Party, second most powerful ruler; and Grublov, who replaced Beria as head of the Secret Police.

Inside this group, the jockeying continues. As a result, diplomatic observers believe Malenkov cannot afford to be even slightly conciliatory toward the United States without being considered "soft" by his rivals. Hence the sudden, much tougher policy.

ALF LONDON SNUBBED

The cold shoulder which Republicans gave ex-Gov. Alf Landon at the recent GOP dinner in Topeka is considered an unfortunate indication of Kansas disunity.

Alf Landon, one time candidate for President and one of the grand old men of the Grand Old Party, was given no seat at the head table during the Topeka dinner, but bought a ticket himself and sat unobtrusively in the rear. Republicans in the nation's capital compared this snub to putting Herbert Hoover in the back row of a Republican rally in Washington instead of on the stage.

Reason for the GOP snub was the fact that Landon favored the Kansas legislature's probe of Wesley Roberts' lobbying activities—a probe which resulted in Roberts' forced retirement as Republican national chairman.

One wing of the GOP in Kansas hasn't forgiven Landon for favoring this clean-up, though the majority of Kansas Republicans are reported with him.

Landon himself took the Topeka cold-shoulder gracefully. "It's a matter of indifference to me whether I sit on the platform," he said. "I have honors which come to few men in the Republican party."

SENATE JUVENILE PROBE

Alarmed investigators for the senate juvenile delinquency investigating committee have found that juvenile gangs have almost replaced high-school sports in interscholastic rivalry in several big Eastern cities. Instead of settling rivalries on the football field, the gangs, representing different schools, prey upon one another in the back alleys with guns, knives, brass knuckles and blackjacks.

The problem is so serious that it has become a mark of social distinction in some schools for students to belong to these ruffian gangs.

Another grave problem the Hendrickson committee is investigating is the exacting tribute from youngsters who do not belong to the gangs. One California mother wrote to the committee that her youngster, who had just started kindergarten, came home without his coat. He was so afraid of retaliation from the bigger kids who had stolen it right off his back that he refused to tell his mother who the culprits were.

The senate committee is also receiving literally thousands of letters protesting against the influence of television shows and comic books that glorify violence. Experts are divided as to the influence of this kind of entertainment, but it's clear from the deluge of mail received by senators that America's parents are up in arms.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Lansing—There will not be enough turkeys to go round this Thanksgiving. This is not due to diminishing supply but to an increased demand, experts say.

Fayette—Virgil Thill, of Fayette, is back home after being lost 24 hours on Big Summer Island.

Escanaba—Shortages of radio tubes have raised havoc with radio reception in the city. Relief is promised by the raising of restrictions by the federal government.

Manistique—Unusually good luck is reported from the Duck Creek hunting camp where eight hunters are quartered this week. Six bucks and a bear have been hung up in the few days that the season has been on.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Henry Valentine was among the first to bag a deer in the current season. The deer was a large one and has been entered in the I. Stephenson contest in which a prize is offered for the largest deer killed in this area this season.

Manistique—Three hundred and forty persons now on relief in Schoolcraft county will be transferred to the CWA for employment on relief work project.

'Copter Commuting Reality In Belgium's Helibusnetwork

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

BRUSSELS, Belgium (NEA)—The world's first intercity helicopter service is a rousing success, even though it is losing money. The passengers like it, the cities are enthusiastic, and even Sabena Airlines, which runs it, is happy about the whole thing, although every flight costs them money.

I rode the commuting copter between Antwerp and Brussels, a 22-minute flight that costs 150 Belgian francs ($3). And that 22 minutes took me from city center to city center, which is the biggest advantage of helicopters.

Sabena has heliports right smack in the middle of each of the eight cities it serves in Belgium, the Netherlands, Western Germany and France. I landed at the Brussels heliport, for example, on the Allee Verte in the heart of the capital. I had a pleasant seven-minute walk to my hotel after I landed, doing a little window-shopping as I went.

Sabena's "Helibusnetwork" began in September. It's the pet project of Anselme Vernieuwe, Belgium's first helicopter pilot and now a Sabena executive. He thinks the copter is the ideal means of transportation between the many cities of northwestern Europe.

"In a circle 200 miles around Brussels," Vernieuwe says, "live about 75,000,000 people. Yet the area has only five major airports—Brussels, London, Paris, Amsterdam and Frankfurt. Nowadays, for example, it is quicker by train from Liege to Paris than by fixed-wing plane, because the airports in each city are far away from the center."

So Vernieuwe dreams of a day, not too far away, when almost every city in the circle will be connected by a copter route that goes directly into the heart of each city. The first step was the Sabena system.

Brussels is the hub of the Helibusnetwork. Every day, there are two flights to Lille, France; three trips to Rotterdam, in Holland, via Antwerp; one flight to Liege, Belgium, and Cologne and Bonn, in Germany; and one flight to Maastricht, in Holland, via Liege.

Sabena uses two Sikorsky S-55 helicopters for this service. Two more are on order. They only hold eight passengers, which is why the line operates at a loss. The rates charged are the same—three francs (six cents) per kilometer—as that on fixed-wing routes. With a maximum of eight passengers, it doesn't pay.

But, indirectly, it does. Many of the passengers take the helicopter to connect with Sabena's international air services to other European cities or to New York or to Africa. A resident of Lille, for example, might formerly have gone to Paris to connect with a New York-bound flight. Now it's easier for him to go to Brussels. Sabena feels that, indirectly, the Helibusnetwork is making money, as a sort of feeder line.

And eventually they hope helicopters will make a direct profit. That day will come when they can get ships that carry around 40 passengers. Vernieuwe is sure they'll have them soon, and equally sure that the demand will keep them well filled.

Sabena is one of the most progressive airlines in Europe. Besides its passenger helicopter service, it runs helicopter mail service throughout Belgium, and uses copters for crop dusting in its Belgian Congo service. And it has just inaugurated the first direct service from New York to Manchester, England, bringing Britain's industrial northwest within 12 hours of the United States.

Riding the Helibusnetwork is a pleasant experience. I got to Dourne Airport, in Antwerp, in plenty of time. Actually, you need only check in 10 minutes before the scheduled take-off. The copter came in low, landed on the runway and taxied to a red circle where the outbound passengers—there were four of us—were waiting.

The attendant slid open the door, four passengers got out, four got on, the door was closed, and we took off. The copter was on the ground barely two minutes. Three minutes is the maximum Sabena allows for loading and unloading.

In the air, riding the copter is much like riding any commercial airline. You fasten the same kind of seat belt, have the same thrill of looking down at things, and the actual sensation of flying is identical. There are some differences.

ences—you can't smoke, the flight is so short you keep your coat on, and the copter makes so much noise conversation is impossible.

We flew over the pretty Belgian countryside. We flew over the smokestacks of the industrial city, Boom. We flew over the cobblestone highway with the adjacent lane for bicycles. And, quickly, we were flying over the palace and royal gardens that mark the outskirts of Brussels.

The route is carefully plotted to follow set paths over open ground. At the moment, all flights are in daylight and they never fly on instruments. As a result, more copter flights than fixed-wing flights are cancelled by weather. Visibility must be good or the copters are grounded. There have been no crashes.

Landing is a strange sensation, because it's like coming down on a busy street. There are buildings on both sides, and you sort of drift down between them, with people staring at you from buses and building windows as you gently settle to earth.

When you touch ground, you are right in the middle of the city you aim for. No long bus ride, no hour in a taxi, no nothing. Just get out and walk down the main street.

So They Say

The Holy Land tension is critical but will probably not erupt into a major dispute. —Maj.-Gen. Vagn Bennike, UN truce observation commissioner.

BECOMING LOST—According to annual custom deer hunters are losing themselves in the woods with the usual frequency this season as they did last year.

Not that hunters like to be lost—they just can't help it. Or as one hunter explained: "I knew where I was all the time but the other fellows couldn't find me."

There are few hunters who have not, at some time in their years of hunting, become lost in the woods. Sometimes they are mixed up for only a short time; occasionally some of them have been "turned around" for as long as a week or more.

And probably this is the time to repeat that old joke about the lost Indian who, when found and escorted back to his buckskin dwelling, declared with great dignity: "Me not lost. Wigwam, him lost!"

HOW TO DO IT—One of the best methods of becoming lost in the woods is for the hunter to refuse to acquaint himself with his surroundings.

He will not consult a map or oldtimers who know the hunting area; he refuses to carry a compass or learn how to use it; and he persists in wandering away from his companions at every opportunity.

"You go your way, I'll go mine," is his theme song. And he does go his way until nightfall, stubbornly refusing to admit that he is lost. Then he is likely to panic and start running wildly around in circles.

Sometimes that night or the next day his companions find him and escort him to camp. He is the talk of the area. His name has been on the radio and in the newspapers. He is a famous man—famous for his stupidity.

SITTING IT OUT—There are some hunters who appear to enjoy being lost. They can and do become fuddled in their local geography as many as two or three times in a season.

Recalled in this connection is the story of the hunter who made all sorts of preparations for spending a night in the woods each day he went out. He carried matches to build a fire, an extra ration of food, and a small bottle of snake bite remedy.

Sure enough, he would become lost. And when he was located he would be found comfortably bedded down on boughs under a lean-to before a brisk campfire.

Each time he was found he would refuse to return until morning, and would jovially invite the weary searchers to "pull up a stump and sit down."

Once, to get even with him, his companions did not set out to look for him until the following day. The "lost" man was so piqued by their lack of concern that he pretended he had sprained an ankle—and made them carry him all the way back to camp.

NOTHING TO FEAR—The panic that overcomes some hunters when they lose their way in the woods is engendered by fear for their own safety.

They fear that a wolf or a bear or some other fearsome creature will attack, or that they will slowly starve to death before they are found.

Added to these terrors is fear of the dark, when each tree becomes a shadowy and formless threat, and the innocent cry of an owl strikes their hearts with foreboding.

Such amateurs should not be permitted alone in the woods, of course, but they get there nonetheless. Certainly they have nothing to fear from the forest creatures. Although lost in the woods they are actually encountering fewer hazards to life and limb than if they were in their own homes.

THE WEAKER SEX—Women are going deer hunting in increasing numbers, either because they like it or to protect their husbands from the danger of his own camp cooking.

Whatever the reason, women generally come through the experience of being lost in better condition than do men. When they realize they are lost they stop and set up housekeeping, which is the sensible thing to do.

Among the tales concerning lost hunters is that of the lady who became separated from her husband in the woods and decided to wait right there until she was found. She built a fire, made a bed of boughs, and had a good night's sleep.

Meanwhile her husband had been running around through the night, falling over logs, wading through icy streams, and yelling like a banshee.

Next morning the lady awakened, heard her husband's cries, went to him and found him so exhausted she had to practically carry him home. He never forgave her. Never, he declared, had he seen anyone so thankless as his wife for being rescued.

The boy who took his watch apart to see how it worked is now the man who takes his car apart to see why it doesn't work.

Man and wife were caught robbing a store in an Idaho town. She probably went along to pick up after him.

Wind is produced by difference in atmospheric pressure—or by asking a man about his golf game.

Ohio Tax Hits Michigan Trucks

LANSING (AP)—Ohio's new truck use tax had Gov. Williams appealing for leniency on behalf of Michigan haulers.

Williams wrote Gov. Frank Lausche of Ohio asking for reconsideration of the Ohio Highway Reciprocity Board's decision that it will not grant reciprocity to Michigan on the new tax.

Effective Oct. 1 and payable first on Jan. 1, the new tax is a weight-mileage levy on all trucks. Williams said it will cost truckers "substantially more" than the mild Michigan mileage tax.

Williams said the Ohio board would continue the long-standing reciprocity with Michigan in truck license fees.

Under a reciprocal agreement, one state recognizes the licenses and fees paid in another state if its truckers are granted equal privileges in the other state.

Aid To Europe Gets Good Results; Can Be Cut Down Soon

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—American aid to Europe has been so successful that economic assistance to most nations can be reduced soon, Mutual Security Administrator Harold E. Stassen said Monday night.

"Europe is having its best year economically since the war," he said in a television interview.

"As a result, economic assistance can soon be reduced in Europe except perhaps for Spain, Greece and Turkey."

With The Deer Hunters

Hunters in the Hermansville area and with most of the shooting in the Vega district, which is regarded as one of the best spots for deer, have reported better than average success this year. A total of 35 or more deer have been taken out of Vega thus far. Among those reporting kills are, Emil and James Ayotte, Erwin LaFavie and John Bedard, Warren Ayotte, Edward Lohf Jr. and Sr., Jesse Yale, Lenny Menard, Amos Gaede, Cliff Renier, Frank Taylor, Robert Appleby, Walter Juda, Carl Swanson, Charles Rochon, Ed Faccio, Lindo Polazzo Jr., Ed O'Keefe, Kenneth, John and Baldy Maga, Peter Tomich, Willard Hamacher, Sven Anderson, Art and Fred Poquette, Robert Nelson, Walter Peters, Fred LaPorte, Harry Warble, Ernest Dani and John Hunter, Ed Peterson, Cal Jasken.

Walter Juda of Hamtramck has earned a new nickname, the Vega Swamp King after shooting his buck, he had to drag it in 4½ miles. Mrs. Peter Tomich is the first woman to report her kill. Out of the many hunters staying at the Menominee Hotel, seven have got their bucks. Hermansville is still full of red shirts and approximately 175 hunters from downstate, Wisconsin and Illinois are out to shoot their bucks.

HUNTING IN ROCK VICINITY Roy Jacks and his brother Ralph report on seeing a large timber wolf about half a forty from their farm buildings. It was seen early Sunday morning and at first they thought it was a deer, it was so large. That explains the strange noise Mr. and Mrs. Jacks have been hearing early in the morning which didn't quite sound like a dog or a coyote.

Hunters at the Roy Jacks residence are Dr. Joseph Klowoski, Max Mentley, Charles Jacks, Edmund Astyk, Ralph Jacks and Leonard Bader, all from Detroit. It took some of them 10 hours to get across the Straits.

Wayne Linberg, Williamsport, Ind., and Red McNutrie, Attica, Ind., are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hank Norkooli for the hunting season.

Eino Kaminen, Detroit, is visiting with his mother, Mrs. Mary Kaminen, and is hunting this week.

Hunting guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Bartlett are Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Davis of Lansing.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS Thursday, November 19, 1953—5

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wolf of Traverse City are hunting in the Rock area.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Buckland, Emmett, Mich., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Reino Neimela and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Linjala. Mrs. Buckland and Mrs. Neimela are sisters.

Hunters from Waukegan at the Albert Norden home are Lee Norden and Otto Turunen.

Joe Coon, Muskegon, who is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Linjala shot a 6 point buck Monday. Others in the party are Clyde Stanford, Muskegon and Darwin Lehigh, Munising.

It is estimated that 50 per cent of all farm work in the United States is hand work.

Miss Oman Wins Poster Contest

Shirley E. Oman, a senior at Escanaba Senior High School, is winner of a National Book Week poster contest sponsored by the school library, and a poster by Rosemary Hossele, also a senior, took honorable mention. Book Week is Nov. 15-21.

The winning posters were on display Wednesday in the school library during a day-long exhibit of 80 to 90 newly acquired books, and also during a teachers' Book Week tea held in the library beginning at 4.

Miss Oman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur M. Oman, 1328 Stephenson Ave., and Miss Hossele is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hossele, 1315 Sheridan Rd.

Wins Book On Art
Miss Oman wins a book of her own choosing in the field of art. Judges were Viola Salo, home-making teacher; Charlene Loebel, elementary schools art supervisor; and John Romstad, English teacher.

About 500 students came in to look at the new books Wednesday. Librarian Henry Engel said. Each book contained slips of paper on which students could reserve the books.

Most popular book with girls, Engel reported, was "A Year From Now" by Marjory Hall, about six recent college graduates finding answers to their problems. Also drawing many reserves from girls were "Hollywood Star" by Gladys Malvern, and "Marcia, Private Secretary," by Zillah K. MacDonald.

Books Boys Like
Three of the most popular books with boys were "One-Man Backfield," by Burgess Leonard; "Jack Davis, Forward," by Leon E. Burgoynne; and "Fix Your Ford," by Bill Toboldt.

Miss Salo was in charge of refreshments for the teachers' tea. A committee of girls from the library club helped serve the tea, coffee, cookies, and nutbread.

Engel, who is in his first year at Escanaba Senior High School this year, came to Escanaba from Wil- low Run. He has a degree as bachelor of library science from the University of Wisconsin, and received his degree as master of library science from the University of Michigan last February.

Two Slightly Hurt In Car Collision In Manistique Area

MANISTIQUE — Two women were hurt but not seriously in an 8:30 a. m. auto accident today on US-2 two and a half miles east of the Schoolcraft County line, when one car rammed another in the rear, Michigan State Police of the Manistique Post said this morning.

A car driven by Wilfred E. Tennant, 43, of Dearborn, hit a car driven by George R. Wheeler, 30, of Midland, state police said.

State police said the Wheeler car, its directional lights flashing, was about to turn left. A large truck, whose driver was unidentified, came up behind the Wheeler car. The driver saw the directional lights flashing, was going too fast to stop, and passed the Wheeler car.

Tennant was coming along behind the truck. The truck obscured the vision and he didn't see the directional lights until too late. He told state police it was either hit the truck or hit Wheeler, and he hit Wheeler.

Mrs. Alice Cox, 35, of Flint, a passenger in the Wheeler car, suffered bruises and was treated and released at Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. Mrs. George Wheeler, 25, of Midland, also a passenger in the Wheeler car, was treated and released at the hospital for a back injury.

State police gave no tickets.

THUNDEROUS MESSAGE

In ancient Rome, when thunder was heard "on the left," men believed that the gods were trying to impart an important message to them.

News Of The Hunters

Art Johnson of Schaffer shot a 180-pound, 8-point buck Monday in the LaBranche area.

Among successful Bark River hunters are Jack Erickson, Robert Johnson and Stanley Kwarciany.

A six point, 160 pound buck was shot by Ted Stool of East Grand Ledge, Mich., at the Grey Knaus farm at Cornell Tuesday afternoon about 3:30.

Edward Demerse, 404 S. 13th St., was another of the lucky hunters getting his buck the opening day of the season. The 175 pound, seven point buck was shot at 8:20 a. m. Sunday near LaBranche.

Hunting at Hendricks at the George A. Ruehl farm are Mr. and Mrs. William Bonkowski and Ernie Paccio of Utica, Mich.; Leonard Theriault, Menominee; Herman Peterson, Ellenville, N. Y.; and Frank Dahm of Peoria, Ill.

Fifteen year-old Bob Krause, 1403 S. 14th St., shot his first deer Monday morning at Robinson Lake in Iron County. It was an 8-pointer weighing 167 pounds. Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Krause.

Hunting companions, Leo Lancour, 1407 Lake Shore, and Jack Nadeau, 1305 S. 13th St., both bagged their bucks in the LaBranche area. Lancour shot a nine point, 170 pound buck Monday afternoon, and Nadeau shot a six point buck Tuesday afternoon.

The Fred Van Halas of Limestone are host to a group of hunters.

Mrs. Art Anderson Elected President Of Danforth Club

DANFORTH—Election of officers was held at the meeting of the Danforth Home Economics club at the home of Mrs. Norman Anderson. Elected were Mrs. Art Anderson, president; Mrs. Paul Horst, vice president; and Mrs. George Larson secretary-treasurer. Names were drawn for the exchange of gifts at the next meeting.

Mrs. Art Monson enlarged on the lesson theme "Mrs. Consumer Goes to Market," and a lesson on Christmas gifts was given by Mrs. Norman Anderson and Mrs. Paul Horst. Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Horst displayed a large number of articles they had made after attending the lesson meeting in Escanaba.

Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

4-H'ers Leave Soon On Trips They Won

Two 4-H'ers who have won won trips to out-of-state cities for their outstanding 4-H accomplishments will leave soon.

They are George McFadden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted McFadden of Cornell, and Arlene Piontek, daughter of Max Piontek of Bark River.

Miss Piontek is one of three Upper Peninsula 4-H'ers who won a trip to a meeting of the National Junior Vegetable Growers' Association in Tulsa, Okla., for accomplishments in vegetable gardening.

The meeting is Dec. 6-10. The 4-H office here said Miss Piontek will leave Dec. 3 and will return Dec. 13.

George McFadden won a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for his work in conservation, which won him a state 4-H championship. He will be gone Nov. 27-Dec. 4, the 4-H office here said.

Tugboat Skipper, 50, New President Of Longshoremen's Union

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Association was "under new management" today with no immediate indication of major policy changes.

A onetime tugboat skipper — 50-year-old William Bradley — took over as new president of the I.L.A., replacing Joseph Ryan, who had led the union through 25 stormy years climaxed by its expulsion from the American Federation of Labor.

Bradley was named president at $20,000 annually for a four-year term at the final session Wednesday of a special three-day I.L.A. convention.

Nets State $7,131,532

LANSING (AP)—The state's share of betting at horse racing and harness meets this year totaled $7,131,532, Aud. Gen. John B. Martin reported today.

The addition of a harness racing meet at Hazel Park this year boosted the total from last year's $5,270,275.

The share of wagering retained by the tracks jumped from $8,003,483 to $9,299,760.

year-old playboy who took to crime, and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, his 41-year-old alcoholic mistress, pay the supreme price for their confessed crime?

The case was turned over to the jury at 10:45 a. m. CST.

Roy K. Dietrich, court-appointed attorney for Hall, said there would be no appeal in the case unless there was an invasion of Hall's constitutional rights.

"I will not appeal from life imprisonment," he said. "I asked the jury for that, and I couldn't very well appeal."

Dietrich said that at this point in the case that he saw no justification for an appeal.

The judge's instructions were short but clear as he carefully reviewed the case point by point.

Cold-Blooded Murder

Judge Reeves made it clear that the jury was not assessing the penalty; that that was his function. But under provisions of the Lindbergh Kidnaping Act, he said, it was necessary that he be cloaked with his authority if the maximum punishment is to be leveled against the couple.

The judge paid particular attention to Hall's efforts Wednesday to shoulder the full responsibility for the planning of the kidnap killing. He said under the law that anyone who aided in carrying out such a crime was equally guilty regardless of the extent to which he or she participated.

However, he said, in the case of Mrs. Heady there was no question that she had participated fully. The very fact that her hat had been found in the stubble wheat field in Johnson County Kansas gave substance to the possibility that she was doing more than simply going after her dog when Hall was shooting Bobby to death.

"Reprehensible as is the crime of kidnaping," Judge Reeves told the jury, "they still did commit cold-blooded, heartless, cruel first degree murder."

"In studying this testimony I fail to find one line of justifying or mitigating circumstances for this crime."

"Is it conceivable that the Congress could, in enacting the Lindbergh law, have conceived of a more merciless, more horrifying crime than was committed?"

The earliest known type of fossil horse, the eohippus, was about the size of a fox.

Olafson Cheated Out Of His Aged Buck Steak By TV

By ANDY P. OLAFSON

Well I was expecting that by now I would be eating Vennison off my Cousin Gust Giddapson which most frequent has Aged Steaks ready by sun rise off his Buck on the first day of the Buck Hunting season but such is not the case this yr. and the reason being Gust has put in a TV set and he can not leave the TV long enough to go Hunting & he barely has got time to sneak out and do the Milking at night & may have to move the TV set out in to the Cow Stable or let some of the milking Cows instid of it and he says their is a Farmer out his way have got a TV set with no house built year Excepting a Ciment cellar but he lives in the Cellar and puts his TV Airyall on the Wind mill.

Well when I hear about the Big city hunters Sitting by the Pipe Line clearings taking Brush Shots to find out if there is deer in it may be Gust is weller off sitting at home by his TV even if I do not get the Aged Steaks but I hope all my hunting Friends are eaten good up in camp & some even making there own bread like Ed Marenger and Bill Gauthier did some yrs. ago and Marenger still has got a sample which he uses for a Papper weight to prove it and sint that time he has cut down on the Lard which he used 1 1/2 lbs. the first batch of bread.

Well from what they are saying about us in Lower Mich. I do not think we should build a Bridge across the Mackinaw and those peoples which gives with Dirty Cracking about being only Savidges and Miners up in the U. P. Peninsila should be kept out & we do not want them up here so we will stick to boosting for the Bridge across the Bay from Escanaba To Stonington and not mix up with no Forrin Countrys like Lower Mich. and no Monkey Bussiness

Hoping you are the same

Couple of Pennies Makes Big Difference

HARTFORD, Conn. (P) — A couple of pennies makes a lot of difference, says Connecticut State Tax Commissioner William F. Connelly. When the state sales tax was one per cent, he reports many merchants preferred to absorb it rather than pass it on to the customer. Since the tax went up to three per cent, however, he says that "dealers are more careful to collect the levy even on small items."

Rides Water Spout

DETROIT (P)—Tolbert Chamberlain, 49, a Water Board workman, rode a stream of water out of a seven-foot deep excavation when the main burst.

"I came out of there like I was shot from a cannon," Chamberlain said as he picked himself off the grass unharmed. The 40-foot stream drenched cars and pedestrians nearby for 10 minutes before the water was shut off.

Peat Moss Crop Pays

VANCOUVER, B. C. (P)—A 2 1/4 million dollar crop that grows without the bother of cultivation or irrigation is being harvested along the Fraser River near here. It is the peat crop that is baled and marketed as peat moss for gardeners' use. A large portion of the expected one million bales will be shipped to California and Texas.

Senators Face Stiff Contests

By CONGRESSIONAL QUARTERLY
WASHINGTON —CQ— A form sheet based entirely on past performances at the polls would single out six Republicans and one Democrat as in for tough races over the same route if they seek reelection to the Senate in 1954.

Stressing that political races are subject to many factors, including primaries, that do not influence horse races, Congressional Quarterly checked the vote totals garnered in the past by the 35 Senators whose terms end next year.

Seven Senators polled less than 55 per cent of the total vote last time they ran. These are J. Allen Frear Jr. (D-Del.), 50.9 per cent; and Republicans Harry C. Dworshak (Idaho), 51.9; Andrew F. Schoepel (Kan.), 54.9; John Sherman Cooper (Ky.), 51.5; Homer Ferguson (Mich.), 50.7; Robert C. Hendrickson (N.J.), 50.0; and Leverett Saltonstall (Mass.), 50.5.

Fifty-Five Percenters
The 55 per cent check point was used, CQ said, because states which normally elect Senators by less than that margin usually are considered doubtful and can swing either way. States in the 55-60 per cent bracket develop key battles, but usually remain with the same party. States which consistently have been won by more than 60 per cent of the total vote seldom change politically.

Among other potential 1954 "entries," four Southern Democrats had no major-party opposition in their last campaigns: John L. McClellan (Ark.), Richard B. Russell (Ga.), Allen J. Ellender Sr. (La.), and James O. Eastland (Miss.).

Twenty Senators won more than 55 per cent of the total vote in their last bids:

Douglas (D-Ill.)	55.1%
Murray (D-Mont.)	56.6
Neely (D-W. Va.)	57.0
Hunt (D-Wyo.)	57.1
Anderson (D-N. M.)	57.4
Gillette (D-Iowa)	57.8
Bridges (R-N. H.)	58.1
Mundt (R-S. D.)	59.3
Green (D-R. I.)	59.3
Humphrey (D-Minn.)	59.8
Cordon (R-Ore.)	60.0
Kerr (D-Okla.)	62.3
Griswold (R-Neb.)	63.6
Kefauver (D-Tenn.)	65.3
Robertson (D-Va.)	65.7
Johnson (D-Tex.)	66.2

Johnson (D-Colo.) 66.8
Smith (R-Maine) 71.3
Sparkman (D-Ala.) 84.0
Maybank (D-S. C.) 96.4

Appointees' Chances

Four of the seats to be vacated in 1954 are held by appointees who have not previously run for the Senate. If they can cash in on their predecessor's popularity, they should win by comfortable margins.

Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.) succeeded Richard M. Nixon, who polled 59.2 per cent of the total vote in 1950. Robert W. Upton (R-N. H.) took the late Charles W. Tobey's place. Tobey drew 56.0 per cent of the vote in 1950. Alton A. Lennon's (D-N. C.) predecessor, Willis Smith garnered 67.0 per cent in 1950. Thomas A. Burke (D-Ohio) was appointed to succeed the late Robert A. Taft, who polled 57.7 per cent of the vote in 1950. Since Burke and Taft represent different parties, the latter's vote-getting record has little relation to Burke's.

Four of the 35 Senators have won two Senate elections since World War II, but none bettered his showing. John J. Sparkman (D-Ala.) was unopposed in 1946, and polled 84.0 per cent of the vote in 1948. Dworshak's share fell from 58.6 per cent in 1946 to 51.9 per cent in 1950. Cooper drew 53.3 per cent in 1946, and 51.5 per cent in 1952. A. Willis Robertson (D-Va.) polled 68.2 per cent in 1946, 65.7 per cent in 1948.

In 1948, between victories, Cooper and Dworshak each lost a Senate election, getting 48.3 and 48.5 per cent of the vote, respectively.

Young Candy Maker Wins Blue Ribbon

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Jim Bob Mobley of nearby Holt's Summit is only 8 and that ruled him out of the junior cooking competition at the county fair.

So the son of Missouri's director of Resources and Development Division had to buck the competition provided by the farm women who've been cooking for quite a spell.

His fudge brownies won the blue ribbon in the cookie division.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Charbonneau have as guests, John Zorzy and Lawrence Freedman of Waukegan, Ill.

Emeric Petrie and William Mankiewicz of Detroit are home for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Potvin of Downers Grove, Chicago, visited with the Elmer Kilb family Friday evening. They also will visit with friends and relatives at Schaffer, and Mr. Potvin will try to bag his buck.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Fezette of Charlotte, Mich., are spending several weeks with the Ray Kasbohm family. Mrs. Fezette is hunting in the area.

Miss Lorraine Devine of Menominee visited with her sisters, Misses Ellen and Anne Devine, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dallapiazio and twin daughters, Shelley Rene and Sheryl Ann, of Norway visited over the weekend with the Alfred Schoen family. Robert spent the weekend hunting. Mrs. Dallapiazio and daughters will vacation with the former's parents for a week.

Roy Michel of St. Paul and Clarence Burmeister of Hill Point, Wis., arrived Sunday for a visit with Mrs. Michel and daughter, Nora Mary. They will remain here during the hunting season. They visited the Elmer Kilb family Sunday before leaving for the Michel home at Schaffer.

Thomas Kolodz of Chicago is visiting at the John Shiverski and Frank Bartoszek homes while Mr. Kolodz hunts in the vicinity.

Soviets Afraid Of Losing Grip

CLEVELAND (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said Russian rulers have refused to talk with the West about European problems because of fear for their control over peoples behind the Iron Curtain.

"The Soviet rulers have retreated into a diplomatic defensive," the secretary declared. "The free world now has the diplomatic and moral initiative."

Dulles, in a speech prepared for the annual convention of the CIO, said he hoped the free nations would "sustain that initiative by being ready to talk about any concrete point of difference—whether it be in Europe or in Asia, or whether it be in relation to armament."

But he cautioned that a desire to confer with the Russians "should not lead us to confer where the only probable result would be an apparent moral approval of the Kremlin's rule over the peoples of 15 once-independent nations."

Dulles said it is his belief that the examples of progress and accomplishment in the free world would ultimately cause the collapse of Soviet control over what he called "the captive world front." He said it is neither necessary nor desirable "that we should try to foment violent revolution."

Missionary Tells Of African Experiences

ROCK—A missionary from Africa, Paul Gross, showed colored slides and narrated on Nigeria in Africa at the Family Bible Hour which is held weekly at the Rock Town Hall Sunday evenings at 7:30 p. m. More additional slides will be shown Thursday night at the Bible Chapel at Little Lake.

Mr. Gross went to Africa with his parents while very young. He grew up there and has done missionary work with his parents and family ever since. In 1922 the natives were much more hostile than they are now he recalls.

Slides Shown

He showed slides of different animals, birds, people and the country in general. The country itself is twice as large as Texas and yet there are eleven different languages spoken, each in itself a different language.

He said people in general are eager for learning, because some will leave their farms and walk forty miles to a mission school to learn for a few days. There is a need for doctors and schools, says Mr. Gross. Only one nurse from Canada is trying to take care of the sick at the dispensary.

They make recordings out there, which are made into records in the Basa language. So far four records have been made, which are played to the people on gramophones.

Public Meeting

The Bible Hour was well attended. Instead of a young peoples meeting Thursday night, the public is invited to the missionary meeting at 7:30 p. m. at Little Lake Bible Chapel.

The Crafts club will meet again at 3:30 p. m. at the Rock Town Hall on Wednesday. Students from Little Lake, McFarland and Lathrop will attend this week and students from Rock area may attend next Wednesday.

Charlevoix Jail Trio Captured

EAST JORDAN (P)—Three escaped prisoners from the Charlevoix County jail were captured near here Wednesday by four deer hunters. The trio was found unarmed, huddled around a telephone pole. They offered no resistance.

Spotted in East Jordan Tuesday, Edward Shenoskey, 18, St. Ignace; Sam Marsh, 28, Williamsburg; and Charles Noah, 17, Charlevoix fled into the woods where they were hunted all night by a state police posse.

Shortly after daylight hunters John Parsons, Grand Rapids; Jack Danco, Oxford; Harold and Cliff Mayhew of East Jordan accidentally stumbled upon the three men.

The hunters kept the fugitives covered with their rifles until East Jordan police arrived to take them into custody.

They were taken back to the Charlevoix jail where they were serving 10-day sentences for larceny when they ran away Saturday night.

Balky Hippopotamus Becomes Mother At Columbus, Ohio, Zoo

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Snookie, one of the world's most contrary hippopotamuses, is a mother. And it looks as though her 75-pound, day-old baby is going to be just as stubborn as the old gal.

The little one (who will be named after Joe E. Brown or Martha Raye as soon as its sex is determined) is "all mouth and head," says Columbus Zoo Supt. Earl F. Davis.

Snookie gained national fame in 1949 when she staged a sitdown strike at Chicago's Brookfield Zoo. Attendants tried to load all 4,000 pounds of her into a truck for transfer to Columbus. They succeeded after eight days by crowding her out of her cage with tons of hay.

CAROLING FOR HELP TO BEAT T.B.—This youngster will carol from the backs of tens of thousands of Christmas greetings. It is the 1953 Christmas seal of the National Tuberculosis Association. Designed by Elmer Jacobs and E. Willis Jones, of Chicago, the stamp's background is white; barred cross, symbol of the fight against tuberculosis, is red, and the child is clad in green.

Russia Woos Finns

HELSINKI, Finland (P)—Former Premier Urho Kekkonen said Russia has offered to talk about giving back some of the territory Finland lost to the Soviets in the 1939 war. He said the Kremlin wants a "practical" Finnish policy of friendship in return. In an interview by the newspaper Maakansa, Kekkonen said the offer had been made to him two weeks ago by Victor Lebedev, Soviet ambassador to Finland.

Birthday Party
Betty Jean Petonquot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eli Petonquot of Masonville, celebrated her fifth birthday Friday afternoon at the home of her parents. Many of Betty's playmates attended the party. Games were played, and a lunch was served. A pink and white birthday cake decorated the table. She received many gifts.

Midland Contractor Still Fighting 1941 Over-Parking Ticket

MIDLAND (P)—Dr. Kenneth McKay was fined $1 for overtime parking in 1941—12 years ago—but he hasn't paid the fine yet. And he doesn't intend to any time soon, even if it costs him a few more thousand dollars. "It's a matter of principle," explained Dr. McKay, who got a dental degree from the University of Michigan in 1937 but turned to filling street and road cavities as a contractor around the outbreak of World War I.

Didn't Like It

"My crew," he explained, "was working on Midland's main street in 1941. I drove around a barricade we had erected and parked. I got a ticket. I try to explain. I get a fast ride in a police car. I didn't like it."

"Seems a newspaper or one of its reporters had got 16 tickets and had announced neither he nor it was paying until somebody of prominence did. I got pinched. I posted $100 bond."

Court records show McKay was convicted of overtime parking in November, 1941, and fined $15, plus cost of $11.05 in a justice of the peace court. He appealed to Circuit Court and the now late Judge Ray Hart reduced the fine to 50 cents and the cost to the same.

McKay appealed to the Michigan Supreme Court, which declined to hear his side.

Cost Few Thousand

Three times County Clerk Benjamin E. Voorhees, Jr., sent McKay checks for $99—his bond minus 50 cents fine and 50 cents costs. Three times McKay refused to cash them within the specified time.

Just how much has this one-time dentist turned paving contractor spent in defense of $1.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS
Thursday, November 19, 1953—11

"I'm ashamed to say," McKay confided. "As I remember I hired every lawyer in town as defense counsel at the start. Just as a joke. Say 'a few thousand dollars.'"

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

Hold Up Criticism For 3 Days, Wives Of Ministers Advised

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—If ministers' wives don't like their husbands' taste in clothing or choice of words in a Sunday sermon, they should keep quiet—at least for three days.

A panel of Baptist ministers' wives decided that Wednesday is the ideal day to mention anything uncomplimentary to their husbands.

"It takes that long for them to simmer down," said one panel member.

The occasion was the annual ministers wives conference Tuesday preceding the Arkansas Baptist State Convention's meeting.

Didn't Trust Banks; Widow Loses $85,000 She Carried In Sack

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Amine Hicks, an elderly widow who says she has carried about $85,000 around in a paper sack since 1945, told police she lost it in a drugstore.

Officers, skeptical at first, said Monday they had confirmed her story.

Mrs. Hicks told reporters she doesn't trust banks.

Cypress wood usually contains an oily material that forms a natural preservative.

High Bird Paced Everest Victors

WASHINGTON—When Sir Edmund Hillary and Tensing Norkey were nearing the top of Mount Everest earlier this year, they were astonished to see a bird flying at the 27,000 foot level.

Floater Indicted For Thefts From Benton Harbor Mail

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Leo Leonard Banach, 40, no permanent address, was indicted late Tuesday by a federal grand jury on eight counts involving forged government checks and thefts from the mails here and in Benton Harbor.

Banach was arrested by federal authorities and is held in South Bend, Ind., where he is under indictment on similar charges. The Benton Harbor mail theft allegedly occurred March 5.

U. S. District Attorney Wendell A. Miles said Banach was also suspected of additional mail thefts in Iowa.

Pet Ducks Shot

MOUNT VERNON, Ill. (AP)—Sheriff Roy Taylor is gunning for some duck hunters who shot his four sitting ducks. The sheriff kept the four clipped-wing mallards on a pond near his home. Shotgun blasts killed all of them.

flyer failed by some 2,000 feet of beating what is generally regarded as the world altitude record for birds, says the National Geographic Society.

Scientists photographing the sun over India once sighted a flock of geese at 29,000 feet, the approximate height of Mount Everest. In migration across the lofty Himalayas, these geese set the record.

Ornithologists for several reasons do not stress altitude records of birds. They point out that the birds themselves do not strive for marks, flying high only to clear obstacles or storms, or to find tastier insects. The record-holding geese probably could have gone higher had they wished.

Head Start

Again, a robin summering in Denver has a good start skywards over a robin nesting in Washington, even though neither bird may ever venture more than a few hundred feet above the ground.

Neither Sir Edmund, who will address the National Geographic Society in Washington next February 12, nor Tensing identified the bird they saw during the ascent which finally conquered the highest point on earth. It could have been a lammergeier, a vulture which lives in the Himalayas. The lammergeier habitually lives in high places, and had previously been identified in the Mount Everest area at 24-25,000 feet. But two types of lowland birds, godwits and curlews, have been seen migrating past the flanks of the same great mountain at 20,000 feet.

High Collision
Another dweller on heights is the world's largest flying bird, the Andean condor. One collided with a plane at about 20,000 feet above sea level. Another was sighted 6,700 feet in the thin air above a 12,958-foot peak.

Generally, birds of the lowlands fly higher during migrations than at other times. Migrating sandpipers, yellow-legs and black-bellied plovers have been seen at 10-12,000 feet; pelicans, cranes and ducks from 3,000 to 8,000. Lapwings have been sighted at 6,500 and larks at 6,175 feet above sea level.

Once it was thought that migrating plovers, curlews and godwits went as high as 40,000 feet, seeking thin air in which they might reach speeds of better than 200 miles an hour. The assertion is no longer credited.

As for speed, only one bird has ever been clocked at as much as 200 miles an hour. It was a swift, which set the record in a brief sprint not at a great height, but in the normally dense air of a moderate altitude.

Americans Retire Too Early Says Noted Author

America's most prolific woman writer, still turning out best sellers in her seventies, feels that Americans withdraw from activity too soon in life.

"The retirement age is altogether too early in this country," declares Mary Roberts Rinehart in the December issue of the Journal of Living. "We are no longer a nation of ditch diggers, where physical strength counts—but of engineers. We can't afford to put our best brains on the shelf, particularly at this time in the world's history."

Mrs. Rinehart, who has triumphed over cancer, fifteen operations and three heart attacks, holds a record for word production. Now 76, she has sixty books, six plays and innumerable short stories to her credit. Moreover, she believes her technique, polished by years of experience, enables her to squeeze more out of an idea than she could in her younger days. She feels this is true of a great many older people in all lines of endeavor.

Although she doesn't blink at her years, Mrs. Rinehart resents being described as "aged."

"There is something about the word that implies a sort of deterioration," she insists. "I think only thoughtless people use it. I don't think anyone is 'aged' who still has a zest for life, and I certainly have that. I believe that I have been my most priceless possession."

What does Mrs. Rinehart think about retirement for herself? She answers the question very simply: "I never refer to any new work as my last book—but always as my latest book."

Trenary

TRENARY—Waino Laine was dismissed Saturday from St. Francis Hospital where he has been a surgical patient for four days.

Donald Quarfoot of Detroit is visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Quarfoot this week. Wayne Jusila of Lansing arrived here Saturday to spend this week with his mother. He was accompanied here by his sister, Mrs. Carl Oja, who spent two previous weeks here.

Mr. and Mrs. Eino Hytinen of Detroit are visiting this week at the William Hytinen home and also doing a little deer hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flynn spent the past four days here hunting with no luck, and returned to their home in Lincoln Park Tuesday. They remained with Bob's brother Clarence and his family during their stay here.

The report on Paul Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Roberts, who underwent surgery at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor last Friday, is satisfactory. He plans to return home next week. Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Keith of Lincoln Park, have returned home following four days of unsuccessful hunting. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hytinen.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maki, and Mrs. Toivo Maki of North Delta left Monday for Florida, where they will spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb Edwards of Charleston, Ill., are spending this week at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Rama.

Mr. and Mrs. Vilho Laurila and son Eddie of Milwaukee are visiting this week with relatives and are hunting.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lee of Detroit are visiting with Mrs. Lee's sister, Mrs. John Rama and her family this week.

Mrs. Leonard Double of Chicago spent the weekend here with relatives. She was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. Margaret Finlan, who will make her home in Chicago this winter.

Ray Rama of Detroit who visited with relatives here recently was accompanied home by his mother, Mrs. Matt Rama, who will stay with her son and his family indefinitely.

The Misses Delores Hawley and Joan Lustick, students at the Spencerian College in Milwaukee, spent the weekend at their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Leibner and children Roger and Janet of Cheboygan spent Tuesday with Mrs. Leibner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. B. Davis.

Tony Malnar of Detroit is spending the week hunting in this area. He is staying with his brother, Steve and his family.

Mrs. Emily Finlan left Monday for California where she plans to make her home.

Art Hytinen returned to Detroit on Tuesday evening with his buck which he was lucky enough to bag the first day.

What to serve for a bridge-lunch? For the main course bake some tart shells and fill them with creamed shrimp and mushrooms. Accompany the tarts with hot rolls and a tossed green salad. Choose a refreshing fruit dessert such as pineapple sherbet and pass a plate of crisp vanilla wafers with it.

Women's Activities

Mrs. Judith Lowe In Dynamic Talk At Woman's Club Meeting

A concise, colorful and deeply impressive analysis of the peoples and conditions in European countries in which she has lived or traveled was given by Mrs. Judith W. Lowe of Michigan City, Ind., in her lecture yesterday afternoon before members of the Escanaba Woman's Club in Westminster Hall of the First Presbyterian Church.

Her announced topic was "Chats With World Personalities," but, with her comments on world figures she knows well, Mrs. Lowe gave a comprehensive picture of the peoples of those countries and their thinking.

Pertinent advice to travelers was contained in her introduction. "In meeting people," she said, "and in traveling, one gets much of what one takes with him."

She suggested advanced study of the countries to be visited. "Then," she said, "you go to see what you have read about and your dreams come true."

You Are A Guest
"If you want everything as it is at home," she said, "don't travel. You are wasting your money. Always remember that you are guests of the country in which you are visiting and try to adjust yourself to the customs and regulations of that country."

She told first of Spain where she and her family lived many years before they were bombed out of Barcelona in 1939, describing the regime of King Alfonso, the "bloodless revolution" which marked the birth of a new republic, the reforms which followed, and the death of that republic which brought Franco into power.

France, she observed, is in a very serious situation today. The country has felt the brunt of three terrible wars and cannot possibly take another. She explained the turmoil which accompanies elections in France but voiced the opinion that France is coming back economically. Touching on Communism, she said that it is fast losing its hold, because "it is only when people are desperate that they embrace Communism."

"Never Is Spoken Of"
She decried the stand of publications bitter toward England in opening her description of that country, and urged that not one newspaper, but many, be read to obtain a true perspective. She cited in particular the factual reporting of the "Christian Science Monitor" and the "New York Times."

She spoke on the devastation of war which left no home in England untouched but which "never is spoken of" commented on the natural restraint and courage of the British people and described the visits she and her husband made to sessions of Parliament as guests of Winston Churchill.

"In hour after hour of debate," Mrs. Lowe said, "issues were discussed, but never once did personalities enter into that debate. I hope the time will come when we in this country can go through a campaign fighting for issues but not dragging the leaders into the gutter. It is a lesson that we must learn politically."

Eliminate Personal Rancor
"We do not need people to lecture to us. Rather our need is small groups gathering together and honestly discussing the problems before us without personal rancor."

She touched on the unquestioning response to discipline which is innate in English children and which she had opportunity to observe while teaching there, and of the respect which is given everywhere to the men who were in service.

Speaking of just and unfair criticism, she said, "Let us say we are happy to be able to help other countries."

Czechoslovakia she described as "a tragic country but a country with great hope." She continued with pertinent comments on Yugoslavia under the leadership of Tito, Holland with its gracious Queen, the Scandinavian countries which are "happier and more orientated with hope of a joyous tomorrow" than any others and the friendly spirit of the South American countries and Mexico, which she recently visited.

"We are fast learning that 'a chain is only as strong as its weakest link,'" she said, "and when we look toward Europe we must realize that we need these countries."

"Brotherhood of Man"
"The United Nations is the only hope of the world today," she concluded. "If we can come to an understanding of the brotherhood of man and the Fatherhood of God, eliminating prejudice in regard to race, color and creed, we can leave to our children and children yet unborn, the greatest contribution to mankind, a world at peace."

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Norman L. Lindquist.

Mrs. James R. Fitzharris presided at the business meeting which preceded Mrs. Lowe's talk. The club voted a contribution to the Community Chest. Mrs. Henry A. Donnelly reported on plans for the Christmas meeting in December. Mrs. Dana P. Peck told of plans for the annual Charity Ball Dec. 28, and Mrs. Russell Owen reported on the coming Christmas seal sale.

An attractive harvest centerpiece with matching tapers centered the table for the tea which followed the meeting. Mrs. Claude B. Farrell and Mrs. E. G. Bennett presided at the silver services.

Sonja Weberg of Nahma is staying at the home of her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison for the winter.

Mrs. McMartin Is President Of Gold Star Mothers

Mrs. John McMartin was re-elected president of Delta County Chapter, American Gold Star Mothers, for the third consecutive year at the annual meeting held last evening at her home, 402 S. 18th St.

Other officers named for the year are: Mrs. Edna McCarthy, 1st vice president; Mrs. Halvden Anderson, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Elmer Bessonen, chaplain; Mrs. William Ramspeck, recording secretary; Mrs. Edna McCarthy, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clarence Kasten, treasurer; Mrs. Halvden Anderson, custodian of records; Mrs. C. O. Johnson, historian; Mrs. Harold Johnston, flag bearer; Mrs. C. O. Johnson, color bearer; Mrs. Emil Derouin banner guard; Mrs. Clyde McGinnis, banner bearer; Mrs. Tom Powers, sergeant-at-arms.

Ceremonies of draping the charter in memory of Mrs. Arthur Magnuson were conducted at the meeting.

Refreshments were served during the social hour.

Garden

Engagement Told
GARDEN—Mrs. Laura Throck, 52 N. Wood, Battle Creek, announces the engagement of her daughter, Leota Mae, to Harold Phillip Goff, son of Mrs. Joseph Davis, Battle Creek, a former Garden resident.

Mr. Goff is employed by the Gresely Texaco Station at Battle Creek. An early summer wedding is planned.

Brief
Harold P. Goff and his brother, Barry, are visiting at the home of their aunt, Mrs. Hartley LaBute at Garden.

If you cook chicken at low temperature until it's well done you'll have a better flavor, better texture, less shrinkage and more attractive servings.

MANISTIQUE

Choral Concert Planned Dec. 13

The Manistique Choral Club will present "The Messiah" by George Handel in a Christmas concert at the high school auditorium Sunday, Dec. 13.

Four soloists have been engaged for the public concert, Mrs. James H. Fyvie, director, announces.

They are Mrs. Cory Hartbarger, soprano, and Mrs. M. H. Garrard Jr., alto, of Escanaba; J. Earl Cousineau, tenor, of Manistique, and Roland Schwitzgoebel, bass, of Marquette.

No admission charge is made for the annual concert, but plates to receive offerings are placed at the door.

Name Committees For Teachers' Party Friday

Four committees are in charge of arrangements for a party here Friday at which the Manistique Teachers' Club will entertain rural school teachers.

The party will be held in the commercial room of Manistique High School with J. Earl Cousineau, club president, as general chairman.

The committee members are as follows:

Program—Carl Olson, chairman, Douglas Elder, Douglas Harding, Marvin Frederickson, Mrs. Harold Nicholson and Mrs. William L. Norton. Tables and chairs—Dick Bonifas, chairman, Rudie Brandstrom, Robert Kanerva and William Green. Decorating—Paul Eaton, chairman, Don Dissinger, J. Earl Cousineau, Taisto Orhanen, Robert Ebbi and Rauli Aho. Food—Mary Lou Hoholik, chairman, Mrs. Edward LaFave, Mrs. Oliver Edwards, and Miss Evelyn Berwin.

Student Chorus Rehearsing For Programs Here

An 83-voice student chorus in Manistique High School now is rehearsing under Director Douglas Harding in preparation for a Thanksgiving program which will be presented for students Wednesday, Nov. 24 at the school.

The mixed chorus also is rehearsing for a free public concert to be presented Dec. 8, to highlight the Christmas season.

Most students in the chorus are seniors and juniors, Harding reports.

Numbers which they will sing next Wednesday afternoon are "Praise" by Rowley, "Thanks Be To God," "We Thank Thee, Lord," and Mozart's "Ave Verum."

Randy Smith, Grosse Pointe and Edward Cheek, of Dearborn, are spending a week hunting here and visiting Mr. and Mrs. Glen Critch, Indian Lake.

Suggest Peace Meet In North Manistota

EVELETH, Minn. (AP)—President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Malenkov have been invited to meet in Minnesota's North Country to settle world problems.

President G. W. Shaw of the Eveleth Union Chamber of Commerce sent letters to the three leaders. The Eisenhower letter said in part:

"The murmuring pines, the sky blue waters of our 10,000 lakes, the perfect harmony of man and nature in this grand country is so conducive to amiable discussion that the success of a Big Three conference here would be a foregone conclusion."

With The Deer Hunters

Arthur Venhaus, of Milwaukee, who is hunting at Hruska's Camp on the Big Indian River downed a 10-point buck Monday morning.

Leon Duquette, 602 Saginaw, bagged a spikehorn buck at 8 a. m. Sunday in Garden. He was hunting with Willard Gentz.

A spikehorn buck was bagged Tuesday afternoon by Roland Hoholik, Deer St., on the Thompson plains at Carl Makel's and Joseph Gardipee's camp.

Among hunters who bagged their buck the first day were Dale McEachern and Jack Siddall of Cooks.

School Bands Play Tuesday

John Phillip Sousa's "Semper Fidelis" and Cesar Franck's "Panis Angelicus" are among 20 numbers of the Manistique High School senior band will play for the booster concert here Tuesday, Nov. 24, Joseph L. Giovannini, director, announces.

Other numbers which the senior band will play are the "New Annapolis March" by Taylor, "Seeds of Cadmus" by Johnson, "Farragut March" and "Safari Overture" by Holmes, Bagley's "National Emblem" by the "New Colonial March" by Hall, Walters' "The Saints," and the National Anthem.

The concert also will include four numbers by the school junior band and four by the beginners' band.

Four Students Attend Highway Safety Meeting

Four Manistique High School students will attend a teen-agers highway safety conference in Escanaba Friday.

The conference, first of its kind, will be attended by students from Delta, Dickinson, Iron, Menominee and Schoolcraft counties.

It is sponsored by public and parochial schools in cooperation with the committee on safety education in the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

Organizations assisting are Northern Michigan College of Education, Michigan State Police, the board of managers of the U. P. State Fair Board, the Automobile Club of Michigan and the U. P. Safety Committee.

Manistique will be represented by Kenneth Magnuson and Jill Harbin, seniors and William Holm and Marlene Gray, juniors.

Topics which will be discussed include law enforcement and licensing, responsibilities and attitudes of teenage drivers, promotion of driving information, driver teaching and re-education of offenders, and discipline for teenage traffic offenders.

A general session and workshops are scheduled Friday morning following registration, and a luncheon will be held at noon. Austen Grant of Radio Station CKLW in Windsor will be the guest speaker for the noon meeting.

Election of delegates to a governor's conference, which will be described by Sgt. Ralph Sheehan of Marquette, will take place at an afternoon general session.

Sponsoring organizations are sending consultants to the conference. Tom LaLonde of Gladstone is general chairman for the event.

Dan Van Eyck On Assembly Program

Dan Van Eyck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth P. Van Eyck, 320 Lake St., a senior at Carleton College and president of the Carleton Student Association, will welcome the fall assembly conference of the Minnesota region of the United States National Student's Association.

About 85 representatives from 11 colleges and universities in Minnesota are expected to attend the conference to be held on Carleton's campus at Northfield, Minn., Nov. 19-21. Theme of the conference will be "The American Student's Stake in International Co-operation."

Rifle Theft Reported Here

State police of the Manistique post are investigating two larcenies involving loss of six guns in this area.

Earl Hoener of Birmingham, Mich., has reported that three rifles were stolen from his cabin at Tylen's Monday night. Missing are a Winchester Model 94, a 35 Marlin with lever action and a 30-06 Enfield.

Tuesday, Elmer A. Zines of Roseford, Ohio, reports three rifles were stolen from a hunting cabin, the High Rollaways, on the Manistique River. Stolen were a 30-06 Enfield, a 30-00 Anberg and a 32 calibre Winchester automatic rifle.

'Grandma Moses' Impersonation Is Given At Meeting

Members of the Manistique Women's Club and their guests enjoyed an impersonation of Grandma Moses at the club's meeting Tuesday afternoon at Lakeside School.

The impersonation of the aged artist was given by Mrs. George Francis of Saginaw. Realistic portrayals of her life and philosophy were given and many anecdotes and incidents were related.

Several paintings by Grandma Moses were displayed, as were some by Mrs. Francis. Fabrics, tiles, china, cards and other art work also were exhibited.

The club's program for the day also included two solos by Gail LeBrasseur, accompanied by Kathryn Hall. The numbers were Cole Porter's "Night and Day" and Hammerstein's "Desert Song."

Tea was served from a table centered with a Thanksgiving motif consisting of fruits, vegetables, gourds, leaves and other decorative materials.

Hostesses were Mrs. Elwood Taylor, chairman and Mesdames Kenneth Van Eyck, O. F. Smith, Charles Slining Jr., John Raffay, Ray Knauf, E. J. Doyle, W. A. Corson, Charles Slining Sr., William L. Norton and C. L. Novak.

Library Week Marked Here

Various technical and mechanical procedures are being explained in Manistique Public Library this week in observance of National Book Week, Nov. 15-23.

New books also are being displayed.

Several Brownie troops have scheduled special visits to the library and are being presented book marks in keeping with the observance.

Missionary Rally Is Scheduled Here

Rev. David Sperry, a missionary on furlough from Ethiopia, and Miss Agnes Erickson, a missionary from the Philippines, will speak here Friday night at a missionary rally in Bethel Baptist church.

The service begins at 7:30 o'clock.

The two, who are touring Upper Michigan, also will speak at Sunday School services at the church at 9:30 a. m., and morning worship services at 10:30 a. m., Sunday.

The public has been invited.

Miss Erickson spoke Thursday night at the First Baptist church in Gulliver.

Miss Charlene Eck was honored at a bridal shower Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Arthur Nelson, 410 Alger Ave. Mrs. William Bowers was the assisting hostess.

During the evening games were played and prizes were given to Mrs. Clarence Leach, Mrs. Melvin Anderson, Mrs. Ray Martin and Miss Lucille Archey. The special award was given to Mrs. Steve Dragos.

Lunch was served from a table decorated in the bridal theme.

Miss Eck will become the bride of Ralph Nelson Nov. 28.

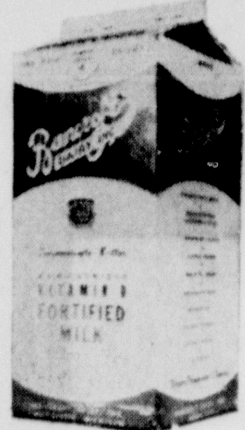

Nine Juveniles Apprehended Here

City police have apprehended nine juvenile Manistique boys, six for looting cars and three for entering business places with skeleton keys.

Three will appear in juvenile court this week and six have been placed on city police probation for 30 days. Those on police probation are not allowed to be on the street without their parents after dark.

Parents were reminded today that they must know where their children are, and that they are responsible for them.

School Primary Money Received

Schoolcraft County has received $15,782.52 from the state primary interest fund for distribution to schools in the county, Miss Laura Williams, county treasurer, today reported.

The money, received Wednesday, is derived from state taxes on public utilities and other enterprises.

Checks which will be mailed to school district treasurers in the county are as follows:

Doyle Twp.—$1,075.12; Germfask Twp.—$1,298.60; Hiawatha Twp.—$984.52; Inwood Twp.—$1,250.28; Manistique Twp.—$1,117.40; Mueller Twp.—$682.52; Seney Twp.—$531.52; Thompson Twp.—$350.32; City of Manistique—$8,492.24.

This is the second disbursement from the fund. Checks from the same source were distributed here earlier this fall.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation for the public's generous response to this year's forget-Me-Not campaign. With this fund we hope to aid in every way possible any disabled veteran or his dependents who are in need. The money also enabled us to help veterans in their efforts to obtain compensation and pension, to find jobs and obtain proper hospitalization. All money will be spent in this area.

Santa Claus Party Promises To Be 'Assured Success'

The annual Santa Claus party here promises to be "an assured success," the Top O'Lake Chamber of Commerce reported today.

To date, $331 has been received, Fred D. Heltman, executive secretary, notes. The amount is still far from sufficient to provide gifts and fun for the 1800 children, but the response thus far in the Santa Claus fund drive have been generous and "big-hearted", he reports.

Santa Claus will arrive here by train Dec. 12 and will be greeted at the station by the children and the Manistique Municipal Band.

Helping Santa Claus distribute gifts that day will be a committee of women headed by Mrs. A. W. Heltman. The National Guard, Girl Scouts, city firemen and other volunteers also will assist. Oranges, popcorn balls, stockings of candy and other gifts will be distributed to children.

Maybe you aren't very sick and yet you don't feel really well. Perhaps you suffer from headaches, indigestion, nervousness, gas and bloating, loss of sleep or lack of appetite. Frequently these symptoms are caused by constipation. When that's the case be smart and like Mr. Peter Rothen of Chicago, Illinois, take

Dr. Peter's KURIKO
Dr. Rothen states: "I suffered very badly from functional constipation and my bowel movements were not very regular. Since taking Kuriko, however, I feel much better. My appetite is improved and I can sleep at night. Gently and smoothly this time-proven laxative and stomachic medicine puts sluggish bowels to work and aids them to eliminate clogging waste matter; helps expel constipation's gas, gives the stomach that comforting feeling of warmth."
Kuriko's amazing effectiveness is due to a scientific formula which combines 18 (not just one or two) of nature's medicinal herbs, roots and botanicals—a secret formula perfected over a period of 50 years. Debaters Argue Against Norway

Gladstone High School's Debate squad will travel to Norway Saturday to participate in a series of practice debates with other high school teams of the Upper Peninsula.

All members of the squad, numbering 12, will make the trip.

Varsity pairs will debate twice during the meet while reserve pairs will compete once. Coach Leonard Newendorp states.

For this weekend the varsity affirmative team is a brother-sister combination, Franklin and Johan Lash while Jim Keldsen and Quinn Rasmussen for the negative duo.

Reserve pairs are Kay Bolger and James Schram, Karen Kliner and Mary Miron, Joanne Peterson and Margaret Herzog and Joanne Morgan and Frances Anderson.

Prisoners Acquire New Taste in Smokes

PAWNEE CITY, Neb. (AP)—Lloyd Dovel, back home after two years as a prisoner of war in Korea, recalls how one prisoner used a $20 bill for cigarette paper to roll his own.

The prisoners were getting "sweepings" with which to make their own cigarettes and had to use any kind of paper available, Dovel said.

The $20 bill was suitable because money had no value in the prison camps, he explained. Later, the prisoners were given tobacco leaves for smoking.

Shortly before repatriation, the Red Cross supplied American brand cigarettes but "we couldn't get any kick at all out of American cigarettes by that time," he recalled.

"We were too used to our own brand."

Tear Down Brothel To Build Park

BAGDAD (AP)—The mayor of Baghdad, Sayid Fakri al-Tabakhali, has obtained permission from Premier Mohamed Fadhil al-Jamali to tear down Baghdad's public brothel and build a park.

This will be part of a beautification program being pushed by the mayor who wants to build new avenue, parks and parking lots for the city of the "thousand Arabian nights".

The brothel will be moved outside the city.

Honest Taxpayer Is A Woman

MCPHERSON, Kan. (AP)—A woman walked into the office of County Treasurer V. E. Swain and placed a $5 bill on the counter.

"The assessors missed me," she explained, "and the $5 is my share of the county taxes."

The conscientious taxpayer refused to give her name.

To keep his records straight, Swain made out a $5 assessment on "Mrs. John Doe" and put the money in the county's general fund.

Patricia E. Closs Becomes Bride Of Norman Demeuse

Miss Patricia Eileen Closs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Closs, and Norman Demeuse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Demeuse, spoke their nuptial vows at 9 Saturday morning at All Saints Catholic church. Rev. Fr. Matt La Violette was celebrant of the mass.

The music of the mass was sung by the student choir. For her wedding the bride chose a white slipper satin gown with a cathedral train. Her finger-tip veil was attached to a satin tiara. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and white pompons. She wore a pearl choker and matching earrings, the bridegroom's gift.

Attendants were Miss Yvonne Closs, the bride's sister, as maid of honor, and Mrs. Oscar Sarri, sister of the bridegroom as bridesmaid. The maid of honor wore a green taffeta floor length gown with a matching headpiece and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and green pompons and the bridesmaid was gownned in yellow taffeta with a matching headdress and she carried white and yellow pompons.

John Closs, the bride's brother, was best man. Oscar Sarri, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, ushered. A purple street dress with black accessories and a corsage of red and white pompons was worn by the bride's mother for her daughter's wedding. The bridegroom's mother chose navy blue with grey accessories and a corsage of red and white pompons.

A wedding breakfast was served at the bride's parental home for 20 guests and a reception was held at the Flat Rock Town hall.

After a short wedding trip the young couple will reside at 1018 Washington Ave., Escanaba.

The bride attended Gladstone High school and the bridegroom graduated from Rock High school.

Red Schoolhouse To Remain In Use

NEW CANAAN, Conn. (AP)—As long as Miss Mary J. Kelley wants it, there will be a little red schoolhouse in New Canaan. The board of education had talked about closing it. But so many protests rolled in that the board agreed to keep it open as long as Miss Kelley wanted to teach there. She has been its only teacher for 47 years. Her pupils, about 20 of them, range from kindergarten tots to fourth graders. Miss Kelley, 67 years old, started her own schooling there as a first grade pupil.

Award 23 Major Grid Letters At Gladstone

Twenty-three major letters and five minor awards will be made to members of the 1953 Gladstone High School football team at the annual Rotary Club grid recognition banquet early in December.

Gladstone coach Don Pfothauer today listed the award-winners for the past season. It is the first time that minor letters have been awarded.

Thirteen of the letter-winners are seniors, eight are juniors and two are sophomores. There were five minor letters listed for juniors.

At the football banquet the Rotary Club will also honor the Upper Peninsula's coach of the year, Harry Monson of Iron River. It will mark the third time in the past four seasons that Monson, a former Escanaba athlete, has received the award. Coach of the year selection is made by the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association.

List Of Seniors

Seniors who will receive major letters are co-captains Duane Peterson and Norman Beauchamp, Bob Sandstrom, Francis Peterson, Rick Rivers, Rod Kelley, Bob Burton, Joe Corbell, David Stock, Tom Olson and Farrell, Dick Goodman and Frank Barak.

Badgers Replace Illini As Top Offensive Team

CHICAGO (AP)—Wisconsin — by the margin of only one yard — has replaced Illinois as the Big Ten's No. 1 team on offense and the Illini also have been jolted out of a tie with Michigan State in top defensive ratings.

Illinois' downfall in both departments stemmed from its 34-7 crushing by Wisconsin last week.

Official conference statistics today showed the Badgers averaging 359.2 yards per game, 249.2 by rushing and 110 by passing.

Best Running Mark

Illinois' total is 358.2, including

289.4 on the ground that still is the best rushing mark. Wisconsin is second in rushing with 249.2 and has a 110 on passing to the Illini's 68.8.

The best aerial team is Indiana with an average of 143.6.

Michigan State rates first on defense, yielding to opponents only 188.5 yards per game. The Spartans defense has held foes to 137.5 by rushing—topped only by Iowa's allowance of 121.5—and 51 by passing. The Spartans' foes averaged a mere 8.3 points per game. Illinois is ranked third defensively.

Carolina Cinches Title

Illinois' J.C. Caroline, who has cinched the national rushing title with 1,158 yards in eight games and set a Big Ten record of 821 in five league games, will shoot for two more conference marks against Northwestern in Saturday's finale.

He has averaged 171 yards per game, compared to the record of 167.3 by Michigan's Bill Daley in three 1943 games. Caroline has carried 127 times for an average of 25.4, compared to the 147 running attempts in one season by Wisconsin's Alan Ameche in 1951.

Minnesota's Paul Giel, who will face Ameche Saturday, has a better chance than Caroline to break the record of total carries. The Gopher workhorse has rushed 137 times in six games.

Miss No Bets In Spartan Workout

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State isn't missing any bets this week as the Spartan football team prepared for the concluding game of its season against Marquette.

At the practice session Wednesday, coach Biggie Munn had a full of water on the field.

Managers dunked footballs in the water and the center and backs practiced handling the wet ball—a precautionary preparation in case it rains Saturday.

The MSC passing attack also got a good going-over with the emphasis on long, payoff passes.

One of the disappointments of the Michigan game was the poor day the Spartans had with their passing.

Flint end Ellis Duckett, MSC's leading pass snatcher, is in good physical shape this week — for practically the first time this season.

Duckett has been plagued by a host of minor ailments all year.

Despite this, he's caught nine passes for 159 yards and four touchdowns to lead the MSC receivers.

Quarterbacks Tom Yewcic and Earl Morrall alternated in throwing with Duckett as the main target.

It's Bad Enough To Lose Football Games

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP)—It hurts to lose ball games. But it hurts more to lose customers. That's the guiding philosophy behind big-time collegiate football.

Under that philosophy, Michigan is hurtin'. Attendance in Michigan's huge 97,239-seat stadium has dropped for the fifth straight year.

Of course, that's dropping from a peak of 563,363 customers in the 1949 season, the year that saw an average home game crowd of 93,893 customers. That's a giant peak.

And a drop from that could only be expected. Crowds of 492,867 in 1950 and 445,635 in 1951 were still great crowds. However, last year's 395,907 began to cause concern in a business that is expected to support Michigan's widespread athletic program.

Average Is Down

In five games this season, the Wolverines have drawn 283,587 fans, an average of 56,717. The final game against Ohio State is expected to be played before close to 90,000 fans, bringing the per-game average up some. However, it will still mean a drop of about 4,000 customers per game.

Can't See Notre Dame Losing To Hawkeyes

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Upsets last weekend skidded this department's average to .787 for the season from its former .801.

Although the outcomes of the Army-Penn., Alabama - Georgia Tech and Wisconsin-Illinois football games of last Saturday were picked correctly, those of 13 others of 39 selections were not.

The year's figures are now $11 correct, $1 incorrect.

This time it's:

Notre Dame over Iowa: It doesn't seem possible that the Hawkeyes, despite two good lines, will more than frighten Lattner, Worden and company.

Maryland over Alabama: Alabama was one of two teams to defeat Maryland last year. It won't happen again.

CLA over Southern California: This is your TV attraction of the day. Statistics indicate Paul Cameron and UCLA mates are slightly better than Aramis Dandoy and the Trojans.

Illinois over Northwestern: This game often finds the underdog the winner—but not when the favorite also is in line for the Rose Bowl trip.

Minnesota over Wisconsin: In the belief that Paul Giel can't be stopped two days in a row.

Kentucky over Tennessee: The Kentucky Wildcats have scored only three touchdowns in eight years against Tennessee but this year they get revenge.

Some of the others:

East: Columbia over Rutgers, Fordham over Holy Cross, Pittsburgh over Penn State, Dartmouth over Princeton, Yale over Harvard.

South: Georgia Tech over Duke, North Carolina over Virginia, West Virginia over North Carolina State.

Midwest: Michigan State over Marquette, Missouri over Kansas, Oklahoma over Nebraska, Ohio State over Michigan, Indiana over Purdue, Tulsa over Detroit.

Southwest: Rice over Texas Christian, Baylor over SMU, Texas Tech over Houston, Kansas State over Arizona, Louisiana State over Arkansas, Rice over Texas Christian.

Far West: Stanford over California, Oregon over Oregon State, Washington over Washington State.

Juniors are Jack Beach, Larry Feldt, Tom Brewer, Jim Bratonia, Roger Carlson, Roger Lamberg, Wayne Cassell and John Quinn. Sophomores are Walter Houghton and Charles Burton.

Receiving minor letters will be Gerald Thorson, Jim Sundelius, Dick Ryan, Mike Maskart and John Miller.

The Braves posted a 4-4 record for the 1953 football season. Gladstone had a 93-53 scoring edge on opponents, losing several games by extremely narrow margins.

Gladstone had a hard time getting started at the opening of the season. The Braves lost a 6-0 decision to St. Joe in the first game. They were tipped 7-0 by Munising in the second and lost 13-0 to Manistique in the third.

Start Rolling

The Braves scored their first touchdown and won their first game against Marquette, a 12-0 decision. They battled a tough Newberry team, touchdown for touchdown but lost 13-12.

From that point out the Braves were rolling. They swept to three straight to close the season, beating Ishpeming 20-7, Stephenson 14-0 and Escanaba 35-7.

The victory over the Eskymos was the highlight of the season. It marked the highest margin of victory ever posted by a Gladstone team over Escanaba.

Captain Duane Peterson was honored with a second team berth on the All-U. P. selections made by the Upper Peninsula Sports Writers Association last weekend. He was an offensive end and defensive linebacker and called signals for the Braves.

Bourke, Eleeneert and Sequin Get Trophies

Three Escanaba Jaycee Little League stars received trophies presented by Brooklyn Dodger pitcher Carl Erskine at a banquet last night at the House of Ludington.

Jim Bourke of Kiwanis received a sportsmanship trophy, Gene Sequin of Kiwanis received the trophy as the leading batter with a .468 average, and Tom Eleeneert, Rotary hurler who posted a 5-1 record last year, was honored as the top pitcher.

In This Corner With Ray Crandall

This Pat Cvangros, named the back of the year by the U. P. Sports Writers Association, is considered the outstanding all-round athlete north of the Straits . . . In addition to his recognized football ability, Cvangros is an outstanding baseball and basketball player and an accomplished track star . . . He has earned four football letters and three in each of the other sports . . . In track he has run the 100-yard dash in 10.8, the 220 in 24.5, has broad jumped 19 feet and put the shot 47 feet . . . He was named the outstanding player in this year's state American Legion Junior baseball tournament.

An expression of regret on the death of Bob Parent, Marquette, who was killed in an auto accident in Flint last month, was made by the U. P. Sports Writers Association . . . Parent was the Great Lakes Conference football scoring leader in 1949 . . . He was named to the All-U. P. team that year.

Tom Shepich, the Stambaugh tackle who was voted the lineman of the year in the U. P., scored two touchdowns for the Hilltoppers this season . . . He scooped up a fumble and ran 90 yards against Negaunee . . . And against Kingsford he grabbed a fumble and raced 45 yards.

Marquette, an early Escanaba basketball foe, will have five lettermen back in action last season . . . Jon Hanson, speed merchant footballer, is currently sidelined with an injury suffered in the closing game against Menominee.

Bill Maycunich, St. Joe's fine fullback who was placed on the All-U. P. first team, is the third St. Joe back to gain that distinction in the last three years . . . Pete Kutches started it in 1951, John Martinac made it in 1952 and Maycunich completed the series this year . . . The U. P. sports writers selected Maycunich to fill the fourth position in the backfield after selecting Cvangros, Fred Barry and Eddie Vergara . . . Other strong candidates for the fourth spot in the backfield were Bill Calley of Menominee, Gale Harry of Negaunee, Chuck Greenlund of Stambaugh, Francis Gilmault of Ontonagon and Dave Shaughency of Ironwood.

PAT CVANGROS — Ironwood's talented fullback, who led the Red Devils to the 1953 Upper Peninsula gridiron championship, was named the No. 1 back above the Straits by the Sports Writers Association last weekend in Marquette.

Ameche And Giel Will Meet Headon Saturday

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—A gilt-edged All America candidate, the University of Minnesota's Paul Giel, and a bruiser in powerful stretch competition, Wisconsin's Alan Ameche, meet head-on as the Big Ten chase crosses the wire Saturday.

The traditional closing Wisconsin-Minnesota game provides a backdrop for what may prove one of the best individual duels of the season in the Midwest.

Giel is the slashing, raptor-like runner, who often fakes a pass before he runs; Ameche the bludgeon-type line crumbler.

Reached His Peak

Dick Cullum of the Minneapolis Tribune, one of the AP's midwest All-America nominators, had this to say of Ameche after Wisconsin wrecked Illinois, 34-7 last Saturday:

"I never hope to see better full-back play than that. His defense also was excellent. Against Illinois, Ameche reached his peak."

Giel last Saturday was held by Iowa to his smallest net yardage in three years, but he entered the game badly battered and favoring a torn back muscle. The Gophers' golden boy has been thoroughly rested this week for his last game for Minnesota.

Another highly-rated Midwest All-America prospect, Notre Dame's Johnny Lattner, will have to prove his mettle Saturday against the same rugged Iowa team.

Eye Iowa Linemen

The midwest selection board, also including Al Couppee, sportscaster for station KRNT, Des Moines, and Wilfrid Smith of the Chicago Tribune, figures the Irish game may boom at least one of the fine Iowa linemen for All-America.

End Bill Fenton, center Jerry Hilgenberg and guard Al Jones are Hawkeyes whom the Irish may long remember. Cullum calls Jones the best sophomore lineman in the Big Ten.

Nobody In Iowa Bragging They Can Lick Notre Dame

IOWA CITY (AP)—You don't hear anyone out here bragging that Iowa will lick Notre Dame in a football game Saturday—but many are saying they wouldn't be surprised if Iowa wins provided the Hawks play like they did against Minnesota.

Iowa fans, pleased before the Minnesota game with a team's 4-3 record, really became hepped up when their favorites walloped the Gophers 27-0 last week.

Iowa simply crumpled the Gophers and All American Paul Giel. Minnesota made a net of 81 yards and Giel, the Big Ten's total offense leader, got only 13 by rushing and 22 by passing.

But Notre Dame is something different. The undefeated Irish, ranked No. 1 in the nation, have linemen in sufficient numbers to perhaps more than match Iowa's hard-hitting men up front. Minnesota didn't and that was the difference.

Iowa and Notre Dame have met every year since 1945 with Notre Dame winning six games. Two were ties. Before that, Iowa had beaten the Irish, three times—in 1921, 1939 and 1940.

Coach Forest Evashevski, whom Iowans give most credit for the Hawks' gridiron resurgence, said after the Minnesota game:

"We have a good chance against Notre Dame if we don't let down from this peak. It shouldn't be hard to get the club up against Notre Dame. On the other hand, I'm catching myself with the feeling of internal glow after a win like that, and it's dangerous to feel that way with a team like Notre Dame coming up."

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Only two national college basketball champions ever repeated. Oklahoma A&M did it in 1946 and Kentucky in 1949. Midwest partisans, especially those from the Hoosier state, think Coach Branch McCracken's Indiana quintet will be the third.

The 1952 - 53 version of the Hoosier Hotshots was perhaps the greatest team ever assembled in Indiana, the hotbed of basketball. At the start of the season Notre Dame managed to beat them by one point and Kansas State by two. Toward the end of the season Minnesota beat them by two points. Nobody else beat them at all.

Indiana set an all-time Big Ten record, winning 17 conference games in a row. Then they cleaned up all NCAA competition to be recognized as the No. 1 college team in the country.

All America Prospect

All America candidates Don Schlundt, 6-foot-9 center, and Bob Leonard, 6-3 forward, are back. So are such key men as Dick Farley, Charles Kraak and Burke Scott among the nine lettermen.

Three bright prospects from the frosh move up. The holdover team has speed, good shooting, lots of drive and hustle.

If the Hoosiers are to be stopped, Minnesota might do it. The Gophers, only Big Ten team to beat Indiana last year, have a veteran team back led by Ed Kalafat and Chuck Mencil. Illinois will be depending on its sophs and giant center John Kerr, believed by some to be better than Indiana's Schlundt. Michigan State and Ohio State are improved.

Kansas, national champions in 1952 and loser by one point to Indiana in the NCAA finals last year, is favored to win the Big Seven title for the third straight time. The Jayhawks have lost two good players in Dean Kelly and Gil Reich but still possess B. H. Born and Allen Kelley.

Once again Kansas State is expected to give the Jayhawks the stiffest opposition. State figures to have one of the tallest teams in the country. Jerry Jung, 6-11, understudy to Dick Knostman last year, is at center. Sophomore Jim Frary, 6-7, will team up with 6-5 Jess Priscock at forward. Jim Smith, 6-3, and Gene Stauffer, 6-6, are the guards.

Oklahoma A&M should win the Missouri Valley Conference title again. Coach Hank Iba's teams will aim at good ball handling, good shooting and excellent defense. The Aggies had the nation's best defensive team last year.

Bowling Green, with the return of Jim Gerber and Clarence Yackey, will be playing in the tough Mid-American Conference for the first time and should win. Dayton seems to be the strong club among the Midwest independents. Four of the flyer's iron men are back.

Notre Dame lost Norb Kewinski but can rely on Dick Rosenthal and Joe Bertram.

DePaul will have its fastest team in years although green.

Punchless Wolverines Close Out Poor Season

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan, which has lost its scoring punch, closes out a disappointing football season Saturday against offense-minded Ohio State.

Outscored 55 to 9 in their last three Western Conference games, Coach Bennie Oosterbaan's Wolverines were hard put to come up with their share of the offensive threat that usually highlights this intense gridiron rivalry. The Buckeyes of Coach Woody Hayes upset Michigan 27-7 a year ago and this year appear to have even greater strength.

They are anxious to demonstrate their power before an expected crowd of 89,000 and finish the season with a record of five out of seven victories in Big 10 competition.

Michigan, crippled at end and fullback, was picked to lose and finish with a 2-4 mark in the Conference, worst in 17 years.

Oosterbaan's big worry was at end, where regular Gene Knutson was rated an extremely doubtful starter, and fullback, where Dick Balzhiser was nursing a shoulder injury. Junior John Veselenak was ready to replace Knutson and sophomore Jerry Williams was prepared for relief duty. Balzhiser was expected to see at least limited action, with Bob Hurley ready to carry a good share of the load.

Ohio lost only to Illinois and Michigan State, two of the league's top teams, while Michigan was shut out by Minnesota, held to a field goal by Illinois and to one touchdown by Michigan State.

Michigan's biggest hope lay in the unpredictable nature of the long rivalry, born in 1897. With and without big stakes and prospects, both teams have surprised the experts on more than one occasion.

NORWAY—Erection of a community TV antenna test tower by Jerrold company, of Flint, Mich., to determine if a permanent tower will be feasible, was unanimously approved by the Norway city council at a recent meeting. The temporary tower will be erected on Norway hill at a cost of $250.

SAULT STE. MARIE—Disposition of the city hall and the city hall park when the new county-city building is completed, expected sometime in early 1935, will be a subject for discussion at tonight's Sault Ste. Marie Town Meeting of the Air. The proposed new county-city building will be constructed on the site of the present county jail on East Spruce Street and would house all city offices as well as the municipal court, police station and city jail.

MENOMINEE—Check of truckers hauling Christmas trees and evergreen boughs through Menominee enroute to Milwaukee, Chicago and other Midwest cities has started by the State Agricultural Department with Arthur Wickman of Carney in charge. Wickman reported that under new state regulations, truckers must keep bill of sale on trees for two years instead of one as formerly.

MENOMINEE—It took until November to get a hole-in-one at North Shore Golf Club, but Joe Schumacher, 1047—13th Avenue, did it Tuesday. It is the first hole-in-one since Tom Ourada sank an ace two years ago and the first in the history of North Shore to be made this late in the season.

IRON MOUNTAIN—Thirty-four hunters paid $1,497.80 fine and costs for deer-hunting violations in Dickinson and Menominee counties over the weekend, it was announced today by Conservation department officials.

SAULT STE. MARIE—Sault area groups having pension plans will honor Congressman Victor A. Knox at a dinner meeting Monday Nov. 23. Congressman Knox is to be honored for his work in the promotion of House Bill 5180. The proposed bill, which would provide income tax exemption on pensions up to $1,500, plus the regular $600 allowances, has been discussed at various meetings in the past by groups interested in pensions in this area.

of Manistique visited at the George Farley home Sunday.

The Ray Farley family has moved from Garden Corners to the LaCost apartment building, next to the Community Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace LaTulip and Mr. and Mrs. Deighton Tarrow are spending several days at the Tebo hunting cabin on the Lake Shore.

NICKEL IS AVAILABLE
RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—A policeman checking overtime parking here found this note on a windshield:

"The parking meter slot is broken. I can't get a nickel in it. If you think the city will be inconvenienced by loss of the nickel you'll find one under the front seat."
